Now it begins . . .

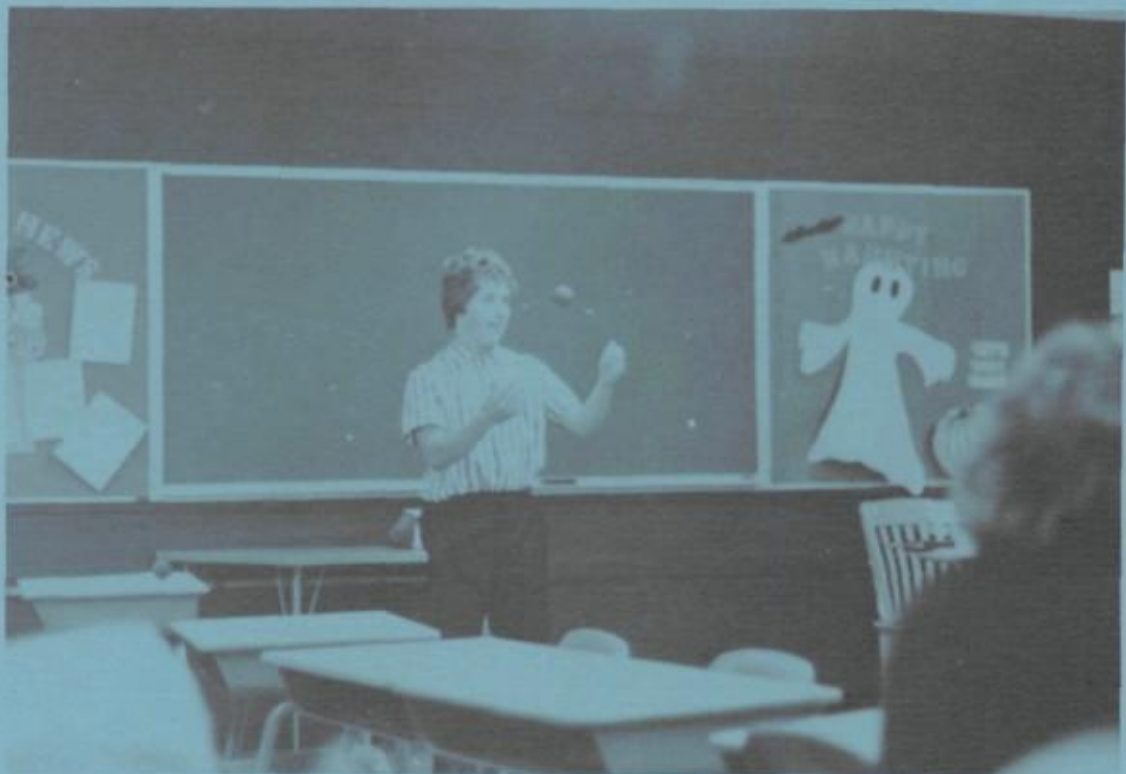

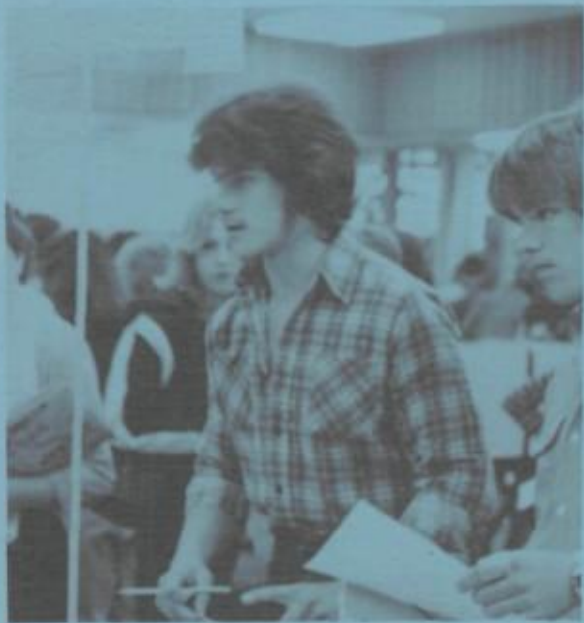

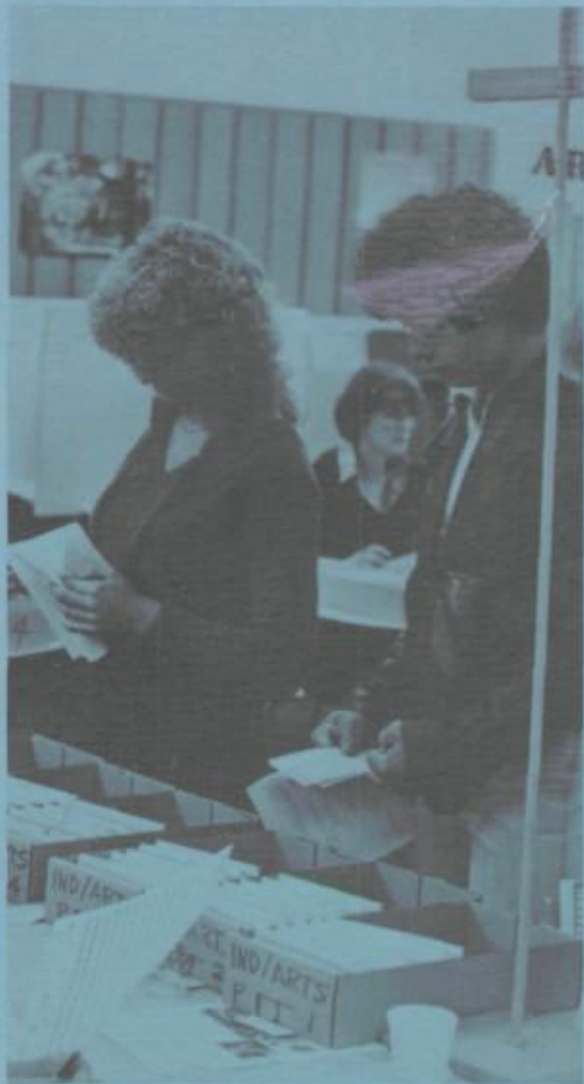

. . . And now it begins! Three years of forms, frustrations and fatigue . . . tempered by dances, dates and dreams . . . even challenged as wisdom opened windows on the world.

For the juniors and seniors trying to fit seven classes a day into six periods, there comes an acute sense of relief that registration happens only three times a year; and that being a sophomore happens only once in a high school career . . .

Bronze and green refurbished the exteriors.

Home Ec students found their area remodeled.

A new crop of enthusiastic sophomores entered BHS, in a year when morale ran high. Bothell High sported newly-painted halls and a new principal, Dr. Al Cohen. Pep Club members did their part to liven up the day with their traditional high quality skit. The spirit of the school was reflected in the mood of the first assembly.

Dance started
new tradition.

The students are dressed in casual attire typical of the mid-20th century. The background shows the structure of the bleachers and a light-colored wall.

The dance, held on a Saturday for the first time in recent history, was a relaxing finale to the week's activities. "Cathedral" provided entertainment for the dancers' and listeners' enjoyment.

Bothell's Marching Band performed successfully during autumn. Marching to their own music, they all kept in step. Bernie Ackerman, Dennis Behrens, and Judd Aetzel directed the performances, while Debbie Branchley and Jeff Horton led the marchers successfully. After marching season was over, they began training for concerts, and provided pep bands for basketball season.

Foreign cultures were brought into view.

A host of exchange students added international spice to Bothell High School and provided "native" students with some cultural knowledge and insight. Yoshihisa Shintaku and Yuji Kubo, Kristin Palsson, Oliver Stein, Veronica Gonzalez, and Letty Nalda represented Japan, Sweden, West Germany, Guatemala, and Mexico respectively.

Two Bothell students travelled abroad for the exchange program also: Susie Sturholm will visit Mexico, and Kevin Hogan expects to leave in a few weeks as a Rotary Exchange.

Some were sponsored by Rotary International, some by Pacific Intercultural Exchange; and some were guests of families with whom they stayed. Gary Oman directed the Exchange program.

Kirk Renn modeled the latest in men's daytime wear.

'Spirit Week' encouraged creativity

"Would you let this guy (Greg Munn) shine your stove?" asked Todd Tibbetts.

Ed Waage wore the latest fashion, established by trendsetter Renn, as Paul Vanderwel looked on.

"Foreign languages can be both fun and frightening," chuckled Mme. Tanya Hoffmoen.

Spirit Week drew many students and faculty to participate in the "dress-up" days and activities, October 27-31. The week began with Tourist Day, then Western Day, Dress-Up Nice Day, Crazy Tie Day and finally Halloween Costume Day. Competition by percent of participation was checked among classes and faculty.

Seniors placed first with the highest percent, followed by the faculty, juniors, and sophomores in that order.

Ball games put

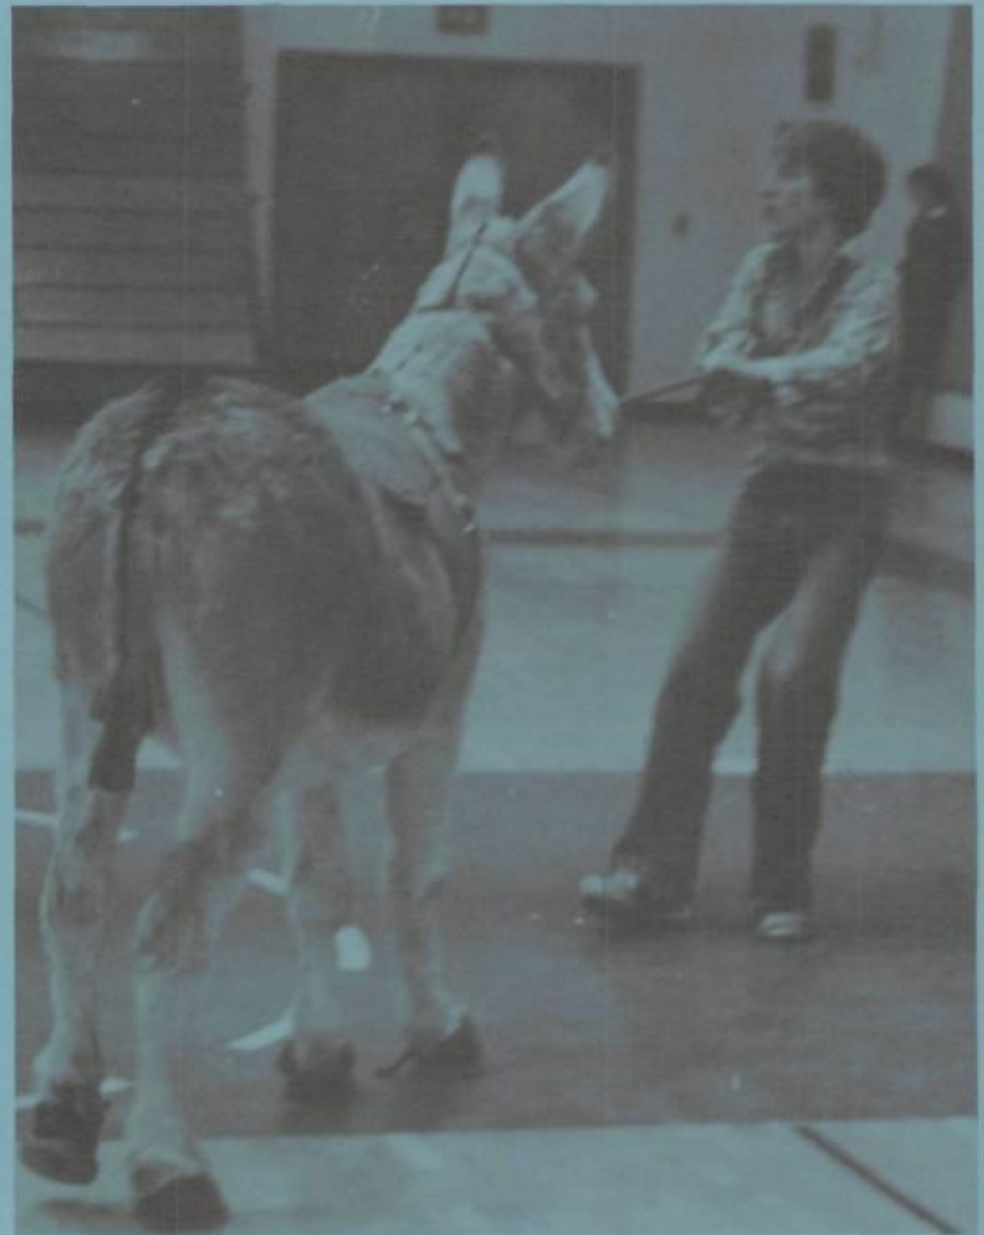

The Senior Class riders pushed, pulled, and bounced their way to victory at the annual publications sponsored Donkey basketball game November 17. The Juniors clip-clopped across the gym to second place, with the Sophomores bringing up the rear.

The courageous 10-rider teams were captained by Perry Holzknecht for Seniors; Paul Vanderwel for Juniors; and Lela Morell for Sophomores.

Proceeds from the game helped production costs of the Catamount and Cougar.

Lela Morell went for the donkey-dunk.

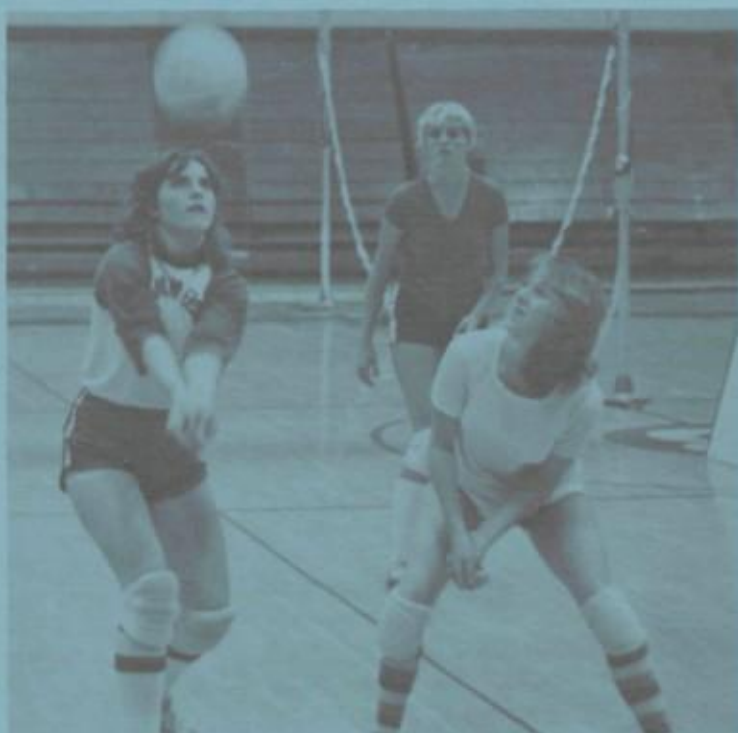

You can lead a donkey to water: ... philosophized Steve Bauer.

"Let's take the donkeys and run ..." bargained two floored riders.

faculty, donkeys in same league

Volleyball was the battleground as the girls' varsity and the faculty fought it out in their first successful match. The faculty was in good form, showing that age was not a barrier under the net; the varsity worked hard to keep the oldsters honest. Spirits were high despite a few sore muscles and bruised knees.

Lisa Lengacher, Ruth LaTorra, and Stacy Green were tough competitors.

Fun in fall

Spirit started filling the air in Fall, guiding Cougars through a successful year. The band entertained with their lively music as they marched through school halls to make spirits grow.

Summer heat stayed through most of the Fall season, giving sun-filled days and sunsets ... until the rainy season finally set in.

Music filled gym

The annual Fall Concert, held in the gym November 13, won audience approval with cheerful selections and sound.

The successful concert, which drew a full house, featured the Arion singers, Orchestra, and Jazz Ensemble. It was directed by Dennis Behrens and Judd Aetzel.

Gleaming brass brightened the concert melodies.

"Oh no, who's going to turn the page?!"

"And a one-uh, and a two-uh...!"

Bothell High's drama department performed their version of "The Royal Family" on November 20, 21, and 22 in the Little Theater.

The play setting was in the late 1920's; it was about a family of actresses, and how their lives were affected by their careers.

Director Joanne Hjort commented that the cast was particularly enthusiastic and fun to work with.

Cougs in playoffs!

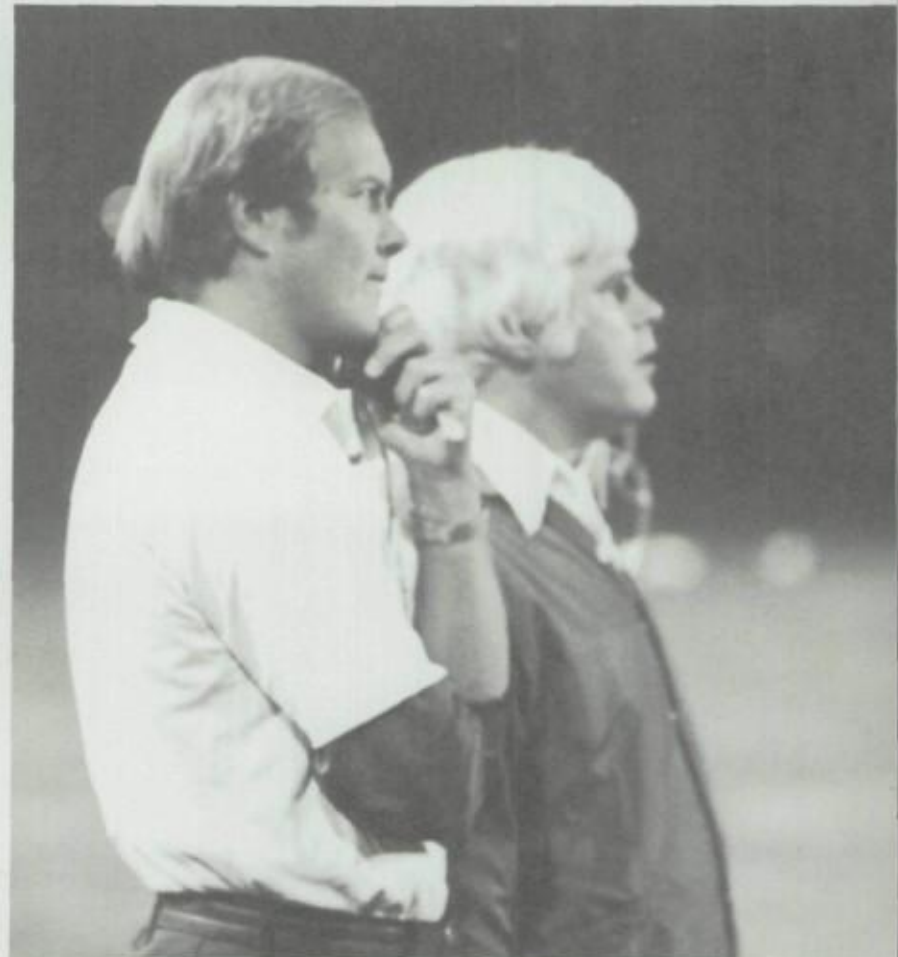

Coach Hawkes gave last-minute sideline advice to quarterback Dave Moore.

Simon says ... play dead.

Mike Bertram showed a well-held foot was as effective as an open-field tackle.

Coaches Schaaf and Hawkes, their pre-game preparation finished, waited on the sidelines for another Cougar victory.

Kevin Bueing pondered another round of mud-eating.

The Cougar football team made it to KingCo playoffs before being stopped. Their over-all record was 6-4, their KingCo 6-2. They lost their first play-off game to a strong Newport squad.

The Cougs started their workout at Fort Lewis. "We knew we had a contender...the famous Ranger Mile," commented Coach Dee Hawkes. They started the season slowly, losing their first halves, but all season the second halves belonged to the Cougars," explained the coach.

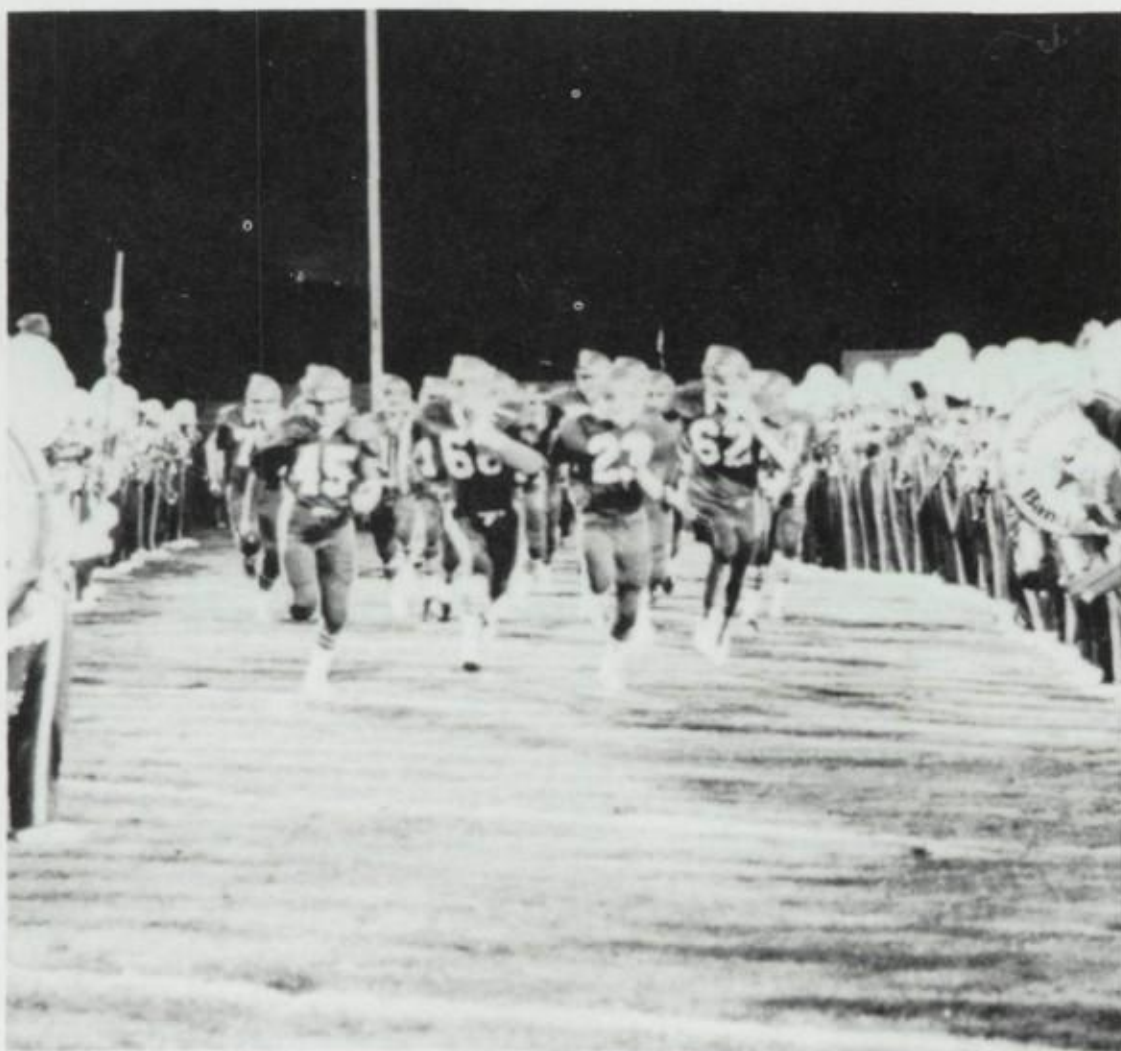

The Cougs had super senior leadership of 2-year lettermen: Mark Beeston, Ben Betts, Kevin Bueing, Kirk Correll, Mark Crabb, Bob Kaskes, Barry King, Kole Kinkade, Steve Manson, Dave Moore, Mike Nelson, Joe Shaffett, Bret White and Dan Wright.

The team will miss the seniors, but their work on defense will be felt for years to come, the coach predicted.

Coach Hawkes said, "The 1980 team can stand proudly for providing all of the fans one mighty exciting season."

Ten Bothell players were named to the KingCo All-Conference team. Named to the first team were Kevin Bueing, offense, and Dan Wright, defense. Second team members were Joe Shaffett and Barry King. Receiving Honorable Mentions were Mark Crabb, Mike Donnelly, Kole Kinkaid, Rick Schmidt and Brett White.

Cougs guard the ball from all directions.

The Sophs

A strong, talented sophomore team's scores didn't show their true ability. Coaches Ron Wayman, Russ Quackenbush, and Gene Girdley pushed forward, but injuries interfered.

A tough BHS vs IHS game went into overtime, but was sadly lost 19 to 21.

The Jay-Vees

Enthusiasm and determination kept the JV football team going. Fun wasn't their only gain, but lots of experience also.

The team's win-loss records flexed more up than down this year. Coaches Jim Dow and Don Wardlow inspired them to victory.

Darren Sweeney executed play, and Vikings!

ABOVE, Russ Quackenbush planned strategy, while Gene Girdley and Ron Wayman looked over the situation. LEFT, Never mind the game, look at that girl!

Football tested "domino theory."

Swimmers swamped

A rather disappointing season, 0-10, was recorded by a small swim squad. Future meets look brighter, however, as the whole team will be returning, except for seniors Marlene Brookhart and Debbie Brenchley. The team rarely could enter more than 15 girls in competition. As Coach Harmeling ruefully remarked, "I guess it's still building."

"Go Cougars!" chanted team members Inga Talbott, Katie Dent, Jenny Bollinger, and Jenny Saylor.

Diver, Jenny Saylor, picked into a 1 1/2 forward dive.

Jenny Bollinger paced herself in her backstroke.

Tracy Stewart showed grace and strength in the butterfly.

Above, Marlene Brookhart was complimented by an enthusiastic spectator. Below, Coach Harmeling thought through last minute tactics.

Coach Holland gave some before-game pointers.

Tennis volleyed

Ending a back-and-forth season 6-9, Girls Tennis sent three to KingCo: Dianna Schaeffer in singles, and Gail Ostling and Anna Dazey, doubles. Team managers were John Olson and Sheri Jensen, and the coach was Katie Holland.

Above, "I finally hit the ball!" gasped Nancy Nielsen. Below, "And the winner of this year's most tantalizing tennis player is . . ." Lynn Ohls, Nielsen, Lisa Nelson, Gail Ostling, Schaeffer and Sandy Machon.

Dianna Schaeffer effortlessly pranced across the court.

Debbie Anastasi readied herself for the next serve.

Harriers chased rest of league all season

Harrier, n. 1—Any of several hawks, all of which course back and forth over meadowlands . . . 2—A breed of small hound employed in hunting the hare. 3—A cross country runner.

Whatever you call them the BHS harriers set a fast pace throughout the season. The girls raced to a fifth place at KingCo and the boys repeated their eighth place at league.

Only two seniors left the cross country team. Bob Gastineau left the boys team, and Leanne Buckley turned over her #1 girls spot to Kari Jonassen, leaving a winner in all eyes.

In post-season racing Jonassen was stopped at District by a sixth place finish, with Buckley running past District and State meets to place seventh in the Nationals late in November.

The girls' team leaned into the opening race against Shorecrest.

Buckley crossed the finish line alone—again. Below: A runner's number one love—his spikes.

Different forms of preparation are shown by these motley-looking harriers. Below: Bourg, Gastineau and Priestman attempted to ace out a Hudsons Bay runner.

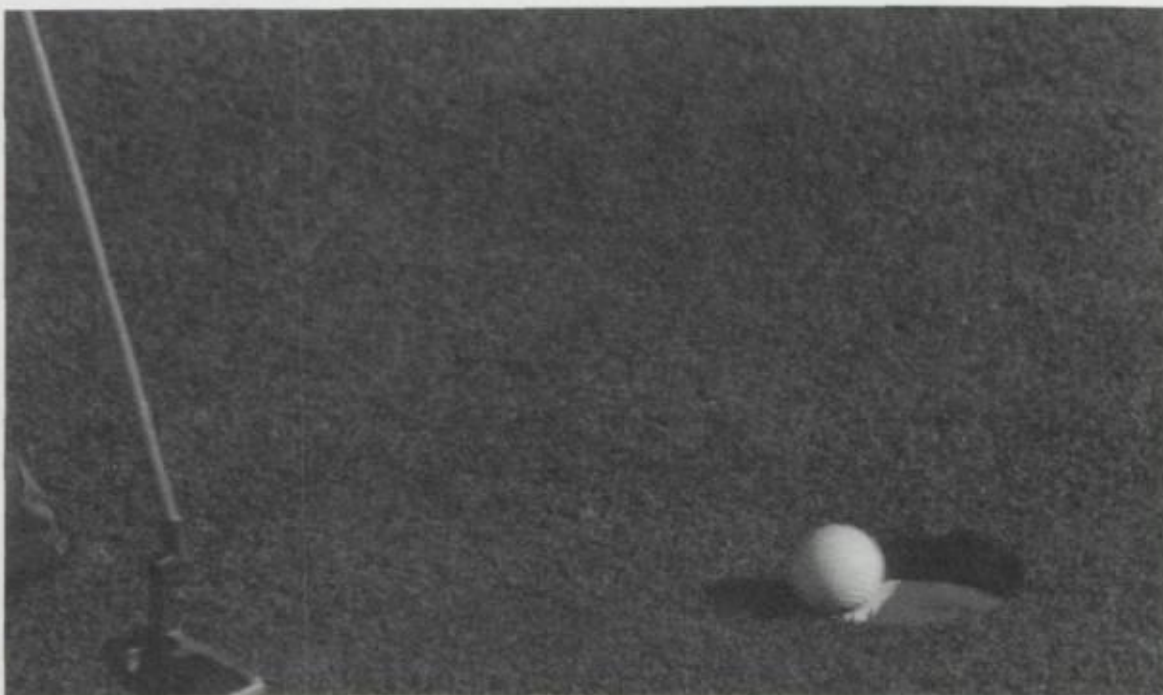

Mike Escobar threw caution, and his ball, to the winds on this drive.

Golfers won, once.

Over hill and dale, through green pastures and colorful meadows... into lakes and streams, trees, heavy brush.

A mixture of both were encountered this season by the Bothell golfers. The season was highlighted by their lone win over Eastside Catholic high school and a hole-in-one scored by Bill Petterson at a practice session.

Despite a rough season, the golfers improved with every match and enjoyed their sport and their daily vigil at Wayne golf course, led by Coach Cottnair.

Most matches were almost-wins as typified by this putt. Below: "Why don't they make flotation golf balls?" questioned John Hazen as an opponent stepped to the tee.

Coach Cottnair watched another disappointing almost-win.

JV's gained experience, and bumped new record.

Ruth LaTorra (42) questioned Carla Brushland's technique.

Mary Marshall argued the 6-2 system.

JV warm-up passed the ball around.

Varsity set

Setter Debbie Stumn

Varsity Volleyball broke BHS winning records. Falling only one game short of going to District, they planned State, at least, for future years. Inspirational Senior Sue Smith and Sophomore Leala Morell were the only exceptions to the all-junior team. Captain Maggie Koughan led a 6-5 victory season for the first year. Coach Yonni Velasco set high goals.

JV gained experience with new Coach Mary Aiken. Although wins were few, skills improved and girls were strengthened for future competition.

Holiday gifts created.

After many hours of practice and preparation under the direction of Dennis Behrens, Bernie Ackerman and Judd Aetzel, the Christmas concert on December 17 was a smashing success. The evening was concluded with the traditional rendition of the Hallelujah Chorus sung by Bothell High students and alumni. Atmosphere was added to the concert by scenery provided by Paul Dahlquist and crew.

Royal theme enhanced Tolo

Medieval surroundings and a huge authentic-looking fireplace gave Christmas Tolo the atmosphere of "A Royal Winter's Eve."

All couples were the guests of "Baron Von Bothell," and were invited to partake in his annual holiday festivities. Tiny stockings were hung on evergreen trees as favors and traditional refreshments were enjoyed. Music and entertainment for the Baron's guests were provided by "Oz."

Tolo royalties were nominated by the different classes; the nominees were then hand-selected by a screening committee after casual interviews.

was Junior Prom theme

A ceiling full of balloons and a twinkling city skyline lent atmosphere to the annual Junior Prom on January 31. "A Night on Broadway" was the theme for the evening, with entertainment provided by Red Ax. Early plans for a masquerade were dropped in favor of a traditional semi-formal dance.

Chair Mary Kae Irvin directed a crew consisting of Anne Bannister, Kristi Carter, Dena Hern, Peggy O'Boyle, Paul Priestman, and Jennie Schumacher.

Royalty were represented by Cyndy Bergley and Bob Kaskes, Senior Princess and Prince; Kristi Carter and Mike Howell, Junior Princess and Prince; and Mary Kae Irvin and Mark Holzknecht, Prom Queen and King.

Ski season started out great in late November, but bad snow conditions thereafter closed local area ski passes from December to late February. Even then, ski conditions were not up to par; but Northshore Ski School started February 28 for a shortened season.

A successful Ski Swap in November prepared skiers, and they were anxious to get going. Many went to Mt. Baker, Montana, Canada, or Oregon, looking for better skiing conditions.

Successful activities

Mid-December rains brought the most bland winter the Northwest has seen in five years. Students directed their energies toward winning the canned food drive and produced overwhelming turnouts to help set up the Christmas Tolo and the Junior Prom.

Individual efforts enlivened the otherwise bland winter curriculum. Senior Bill Bagnall, trumpeter, and Junior Doug Graesser, percussionist, represented Bothell in the State Band competition. Eight Bothellites also were named to All-Northwest music spots. Jeri Scace and Anna Prata both won recognition in the Northshore Beauty Pageant (second runnerup and Miss Congeniality, respectively).

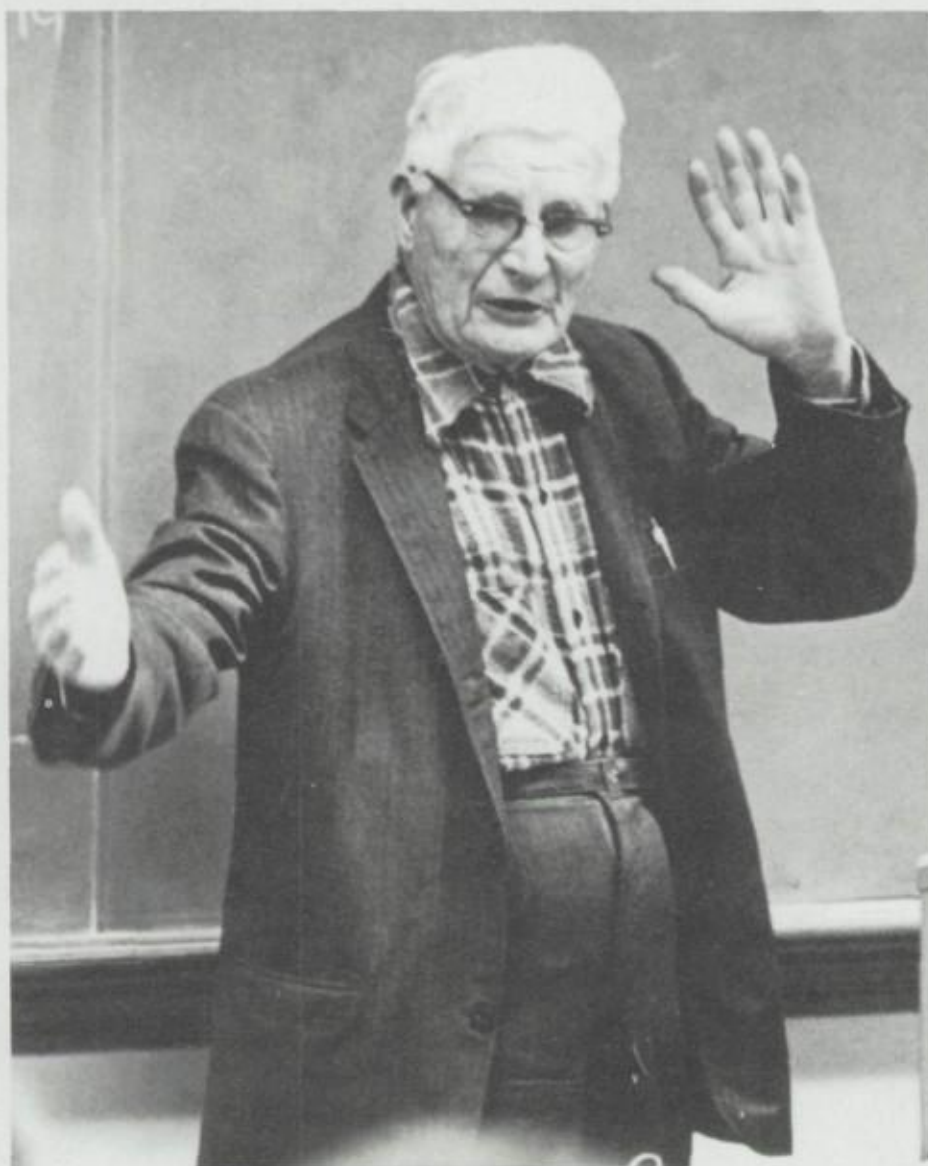

Winter sports all fared well, producing state-level competitors in almost every area. Highlighted was the Boys Basketball, KingCo Champions, headed to State for the first time since 1968.

Creativity Week was observed the first week in March, sparking interest in new and unusual hobbies by students and staff.

"'Wobblies' weeble but they don't fall down!" explained Jack Miller, of the IWW.

Students found fun in the snowfall, which had become a rarity this year.

JVs won plaudits.

A new crop of players and a new coach keyed the performance of the girls JV roundball squad. Playing this year provided experience to achieve high rank in possible Varsity play next year. Fine play indicated next year should be a blue-ribbon season. Shaun Evans, Leota PE instructor, coached his first year for the Cougars.

Anxious teammates watch hopefully for another two points; Coaches Evans and McKennon are pleased.

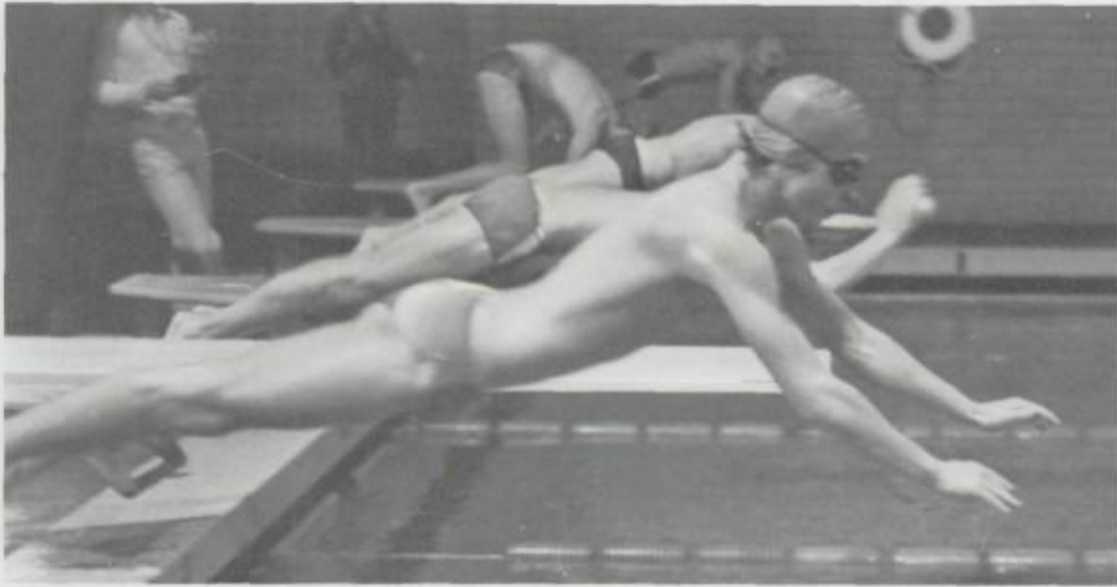

Above—"I saw it first!" exclaimed Lori Watkins. Right—"It's a bird, it's a plane, no it's a basketball!"

"Are you going to let them get away with that?" screamed Coach Evans.

Divers offered lift

Tim Vanderwell took a flying leap toward victory.

Divers proved to be the strength of Cougar swimming competition this year. Steve Boyd, lettering for a fourth year, continued winning, thus pulling Bothell scores up.

Though the team didn't post a winning season, individual gains were made and "personal best times" steadily improved, Coach John Harmeling pointed out.

Losing only a few to graduation, next year's crew of experienced juniors, sophs, and strong freshmen hold promise for a better record.

Chris Goll and Steve Boyd impatiently waited for the judges score.

Mitch Firman gulped for air after a hard race.

Mid-range scores were not cause for rejoicing.

proved adroit.

For this year's Jay Vee team, each action-packed game provided the players with the needed experience for a winning Varsity team next year.

In addition to gaining experience, the team, with the help of Coach Ron Church, boasted a successful record and provided much entertainment for the enthusiastic crowds.

The Sophomore "Dribblers," green as they were, did manage to pull their record up to at least a fair average. Coach Eric Barnum was the source of training and moral support for the future star scorers of Bothell Senior High School.

Gary Sturm grimaced at an offending Viking defender.

Girls B-ball shot short

The 1981 Girls Basketball Team shot just two points short from joining their male counterparts at Hec Edmundson Pavilion on February 17, by losing to Redmond in their final game of the season.

The team has high hopes for next season, after retiring only two seniors: Laura Perala and Sue Smith.

Below: Leaping over Islanders in a single bound it was Debbie Stumm.

The Cougar girls watched the game action intently

"Let me see if I got this right — three shakes, two large fries and four cheeseburgers."

Kari Jonassen waited in anticipation.

Kari Jonassen cast an anxious glance at the clock.

Girl gymnasts

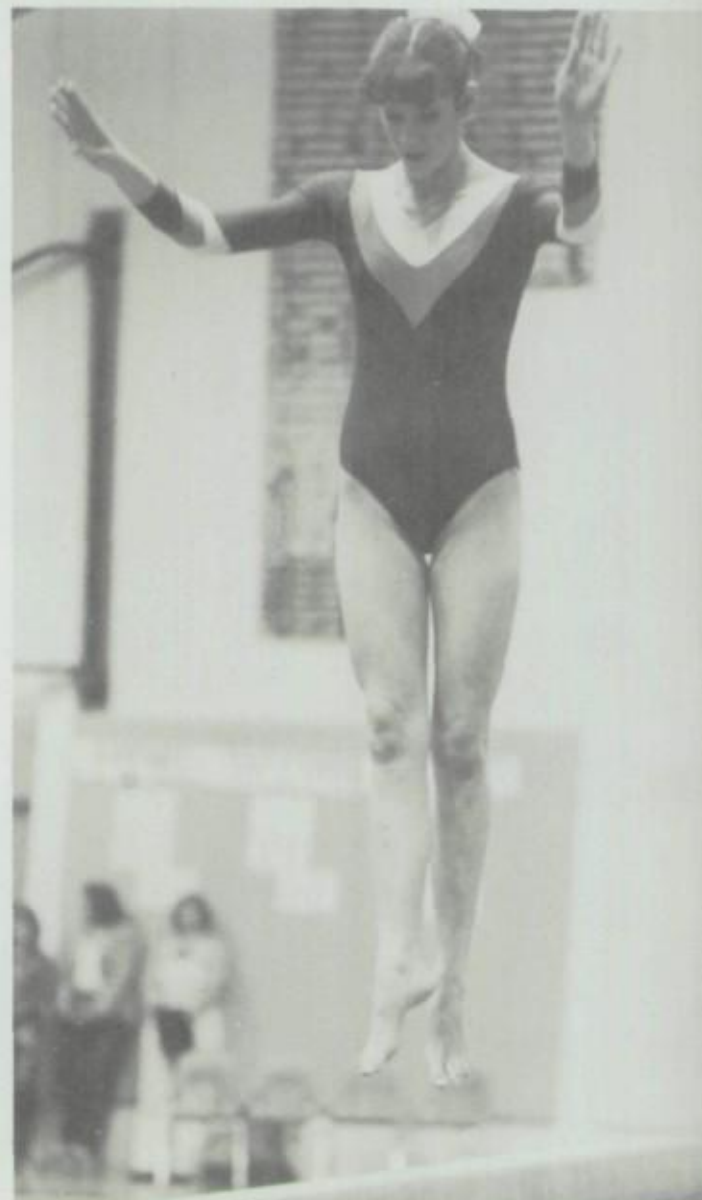

Another high quality gymnastics team was the product of hard work, lots of team spirit and fine coaching on the part of Jim Sullivan and Liz Johnson.

Unfortunately, the State title eluded the girls after a victory at KingCo and a narrow loss to Inglesmoor at Regionals.

This years team graduates seven seniors including: Cory Strode, Maureen Wyeth, Angel White, Linda Femling, Kelly Straga, Darci Giesinger and Shelly Tarbox.

Gymnasts Femling, Straga, Rosenkranz and Strode celebrated another fine effort.

Chris Barrow 2nd place in KingCo.

Cougar wrestlers came out of the '80-'81 season with a 9-7 win-loss record. Place winners in the KingCo League Tournament were: Chris Barrow, 2nd; Kirk Walden 3rd; Steve Zappone, 4th; Dan Worthington, 5th; and Todd Jewett and Tim Flacco 6th.

Three wrestlers scored high enough in league meets to qualify for Regionals: Zappone, Barrow and Walden. Walden also went to State, where he tied for 11th place, at 158 lbs.

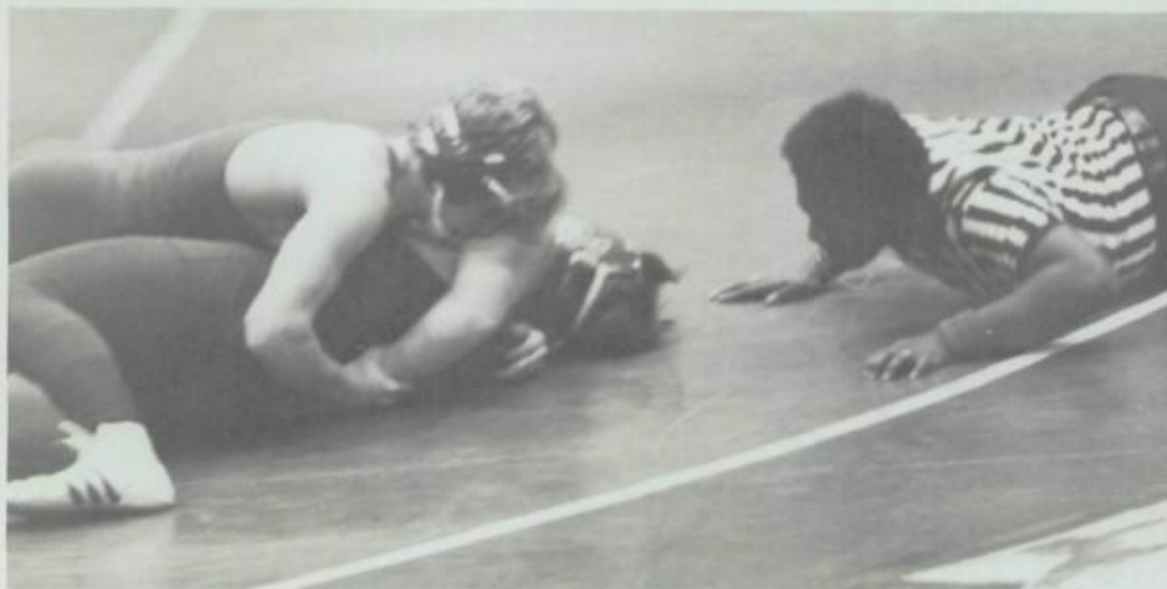

Steve Zappone went for a leg ride.

JV was consistent

The Jay-Vee wrestlers did well throughout the season, providing lots of hope and promise for next year's Varsity.

They provided consistent competition all during league play, with Coach Rod Schaaf at the helm.

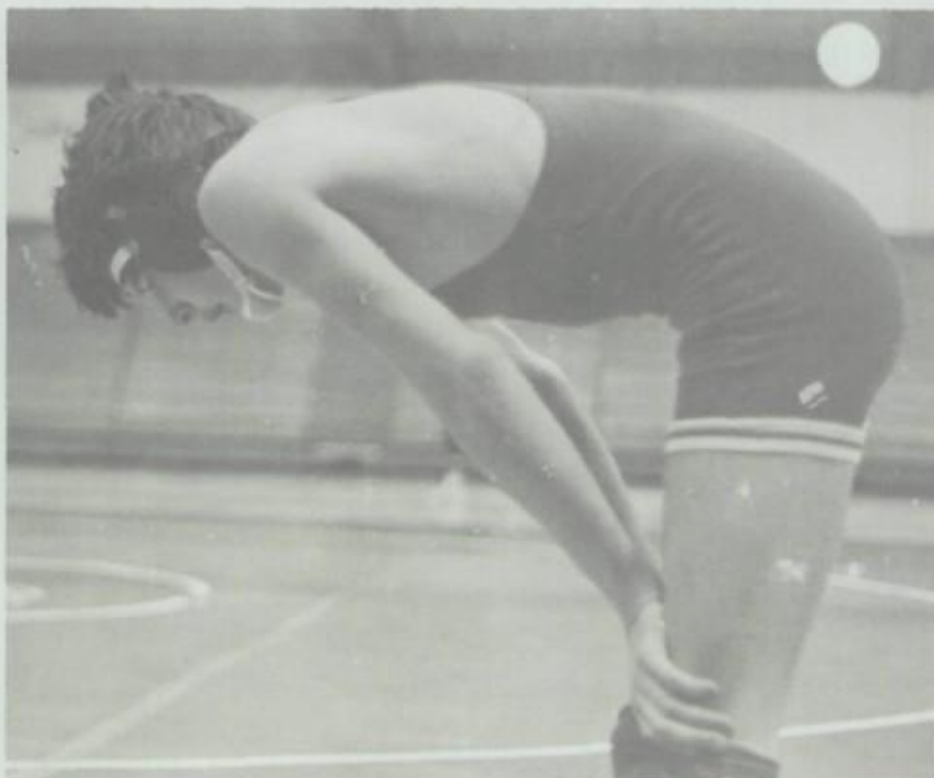

The Cougs finished third in KingCo.

Scott Golka . . . did the polka.

Above: "I may be dashing and debonair," commented Coace Dale Hedden, "but you guys are still washing the mats." Right: JV wrestlers looked onto another win.

Tod Nielson was in a moment of concentration.

Doug Mannon had a good year with a average of 165.

Bowling scored high

Bothell's Girls Varsity bowling was forced into a roll-off with Inglesmoor for their #2 entry into State competition. After leading the league all season, they dropped their final match to Newport.

Mary Marshall was named to Metro Girls All-City team, with her 164 average-3rd best in the Region. She also won KingCo trophies for High Average, High Series (569), and High Game (210).

Boys Varsity and JV steadily improved in balanced scoring throughout their seasons, according to Coach Melra Bohnen. Boys Varsity ended in 5th place in KingCo. Hoppe took the league High Game award with a 243. In the last game of the season, Mannon scored 515, Hoppe 510, and Muzzy 509.

"This ought to up my average!" said Jeff Muzzy to Bob Johnson.

Cathy Curry chose her ball for the J.V. championship.

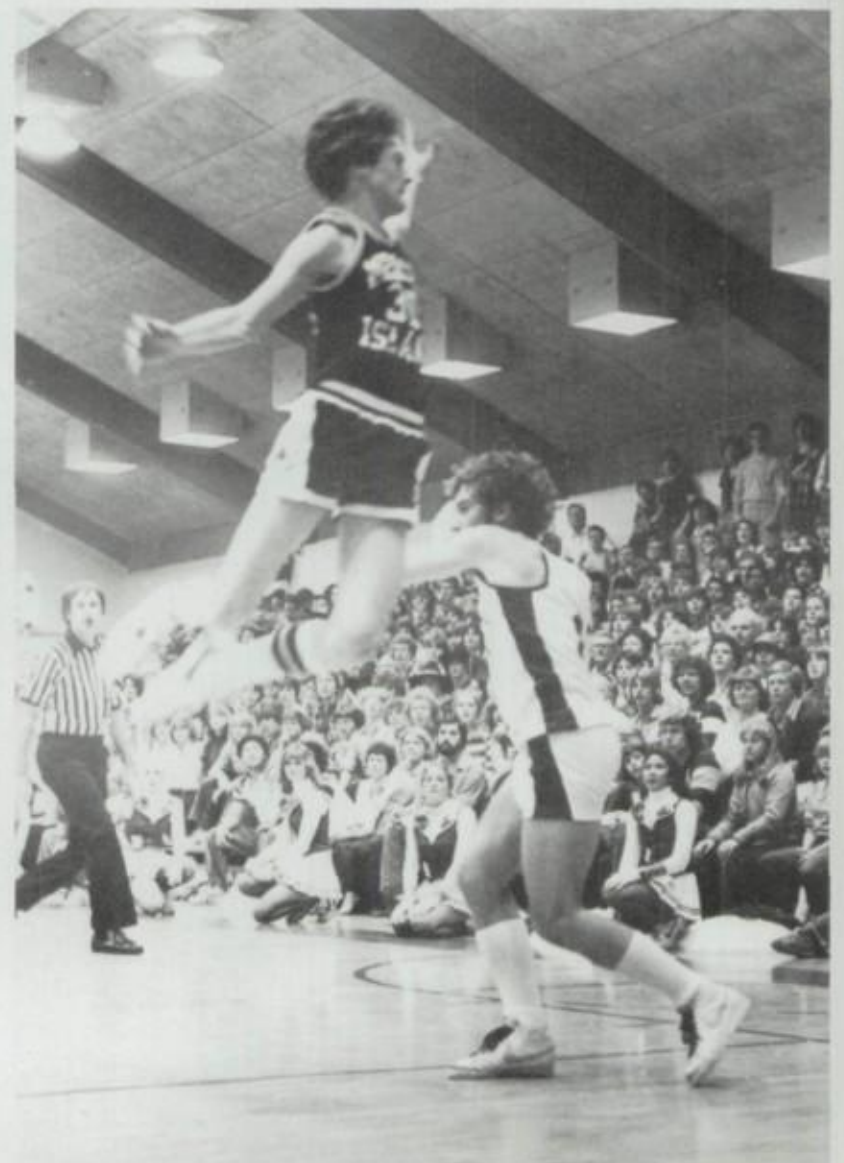

'We're number one!'

Joe Shaffett muscled his way under the boards.

Kevin Morris shot through a maze of opponents.

Tom Parrish avoided Mercer Island's flying foe.

Fifth in State!

Al Nohr blew a pass by one of the Foss Falcon defenders.

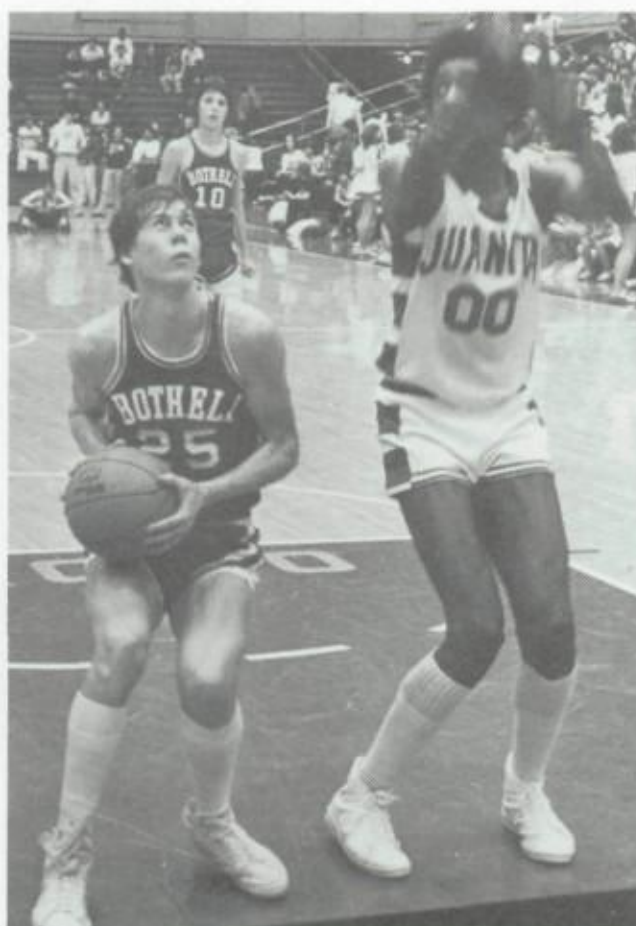

Not since the 'Sixties, when Larry Peterson led his team to State, has the Bothell basketball team experienced such success! Bob Morris won the "Coach of the Year" award, as he led his team to the State tournament.

Beating Juanita in KingCo, the Cougars went on to turn away Foss (70-54), Garfield (70-54), and Edmonds (46-44). Losing to Shadle Park (56-51), they went up against Lakes. The loss to Lakes (63-54) set Bothell in fifth place; the Lakes Lancers placed third in State; and Shadle Park of Spokane took the crown from Mercer Island in a hotly disputed final call.

Tom Parrish put in two more over the heads of Foss.

John Hanrahan got ready to out-jump Juanita's Rodnie Taylor.

Brenda DeMartini and Leanne Buckley competed together against Bellevue.

Debra Green and Merry Handel took five on the track.

Girls Track endured

Katrina Simmons carried baton in relay race.

"Bothell's 1981 Girls track team had many outstanding individuals," commented Head Coach Bill Tift, of Westhill Elementary. Injuries, however, plagued team members, and set back the full drive of the team.

The two-mile and the 440 relays were definitely strong points in the team.

Because Leanne Buckley was the only senior runner on the team, next year's returning squad will be stronger and more experienced.

Regular team meets ended in a split season of four wins and four losses. Yvonne Velasco assisted in coaching.

Paul Priestman led Sammamish's Matt Henrie in the 3200 meters.

Pat Simmons took the baton from teammate Don Holt.

Hop, skip and jump! Sounds easy . . . and Dan Wikel made it look that way.

Steve Nohr stretched out over the high hurdle against O'Dea.

Boys raced for KingCo

Bothell High's 1981 Boys Track was a great improvement over last year. The team was "excellent and a great dual meet team," said Coach Bob Bradford.

Bothell finished with a 6-win, 2-loss dual meet season, highlighted by Pat Simmons' new pole vault record, breaking the one he set last year. Pat was also tied for league high in the high jump at 6'2".

Brian Shaffer set the pace in KingCo in the 100m and 200m, and was part of the topnotch 4X100m relay with Todd Schmidt, Don Holt and Simmons.

Dan Wikel held top spot in the triple jump, nearing the school record. Other seniors adding points to Bothell totals were Paul Cornett, Bob Gastineau, Kole Kinkade, Pete McGuire, Jeff Muzzy, Yoshi Shintaku and Dan Worthington. Brian Apel, Chris Ermert, and Paul Priestman provided hope for an equally strong team next season.

Coach Bradford was assisted by Chuck Baker, Mike Mills and Marty Folsom.

Simmons showed his pole vaulting prowess early in the season.

Brian Shaffer broke out of the blocks.

JV squad gained

For the first time in its short four-year history, Girls Soccer had enough recruits to form a JV squad.

Add this to the recruitment of two new coaches, Shaun Evans and Barbara Mitchell, and the sum is Bothell's finest year ever in Girls Soccer competition.

Seniors Beth Nelson, Stacy Chriest, Dina Kotschevar and Linda Femling led the team to two league victories; two more than last season's effort.

Coach Evans ruffled Sandra McClander for luck.

Marci Buchholz and Denise Moritz attended to the coach's instructions.

Boys:

Soccer set high goals

Bothell Boys booters, led by second year coach Frank Plough, were a spirited group. The squad proved strong with help from graduating seniors: Dave Myers, Don Davis, Ed Schatz, Mark Beeston, Mike Zahajko, Clark Carlile and Wayne McCann.

The soccer program improved greatly over last season's record, but failed to yield a winning season. The squad was big enough to field a sophomore team for some games.

Prospects for next year look good despite the loss of seven seniors. Next year's team will consist of the juniors who started varsity this year, and Ron Juzeler's JV's.

Steve Bauer did a back-jump into an opponent.

Paul Zahajko and youthful admirer.

Gil Hanley took control of the ball.

Mike "Zahyked" out the opponent.

Lewis Teter advanced to goal.

Don McClean did a slide tackle to get the ball.

Gymnasts competed despite WIAA closure.

Phil Agnor studied the geometry of the parallel bars.

Steve Boyd watched the action from his horse.

Marty Mahre soared above competition on rings.

Boys Gymnastics entered 1981 competition as an endangered sport. Last year, the WIAA voted to drop it from state competition, and that action, plus funding problems in many schools, curtailed the competition facing Jim Sullivan's Cougars.

Highlighting the team were Seniors Steve Boyd, the predominant winner at most meets; and Dave Denny, with outstanding performances on the parallel bars.

The team had a high percentage of underclassmen, including freshmen from Canyon Park, which gives promise for next year.

A 1980 graduate of Bothell High, Mitch Craig, returned to act as assistant coach.

Coach Sullivan complimented Senior Tad Espinosa for his fine performance; Mitch Craig, '80 graduate, watched.

Dave Denny concentrated on his pike position.

Senior Eric Pedersen readied his hands and his mind for his next event.

Rhonda Stultz concealed the weapon.

Girls softball debuted a JV squad this year, marking a change from previous years. Coach Russ Quackenbush inspired and guided the new JV team.

A highlight of their girls season was a double play from shortstop Lauren Earley to Rhonda Stultz at second base (marking the first out), then to Terry Smith at 1st base to achieve the double out, during the Mercer Island game April 23.

Although the season wasn't very promising, the team gained new experience to further their readiness for the following year.

Sue Smith, Michelle Trout and Cindy Bergley were the only members of the varsity squad to graduate this year.

Coaching for his second year at Bothell High, Tom Enslin (a non-faculty member) improved his past season. The team carried a lot of enthusiasm, but the spirit did not result in many wins.

Team prepared for a cheer.

'Who's on first?' ... 'The Cougs!'

The Cougar baseball squad, after last season's second place in King-Co, entered the season with high hopes of capturing a second consecutive playoff berth under Coach Ron Wayman.

Winning could become a tradition at Bothell with sophomores and juniors filling key positions on the diamond this year.

Seniors Rick Schwindt, Ben Betts, Jim Ross and Doug Webster provided leadership for the Cougars.

The diamond on the upper field, inhabited by the Cougar JV baseball squad, is the proving ground for the sophomore and junior sluggers. They are primed for the following year, when they will move down to the field at Pop Keeney.

"The players have progressed very well," voiced JV Coach Steve Cottnair. Twenty players have played and contributed to a successful JV season, he summarized.

Pitcher Rick Schwindt.

Mike Bertram rounded third on his way to scoring another run.

Gary Sturm expressed disappointment over an out.

Rick Vogt pitched a fast one as Brian Renney stood ready.

Brian Renney went to bat with a look of apprehension.

Tye Thorson led the team in stolen bases.

Tennis aced out

A long reach was necessary for Kirk Renn in this pre-season game.

Boys Tennis failed to win any league matches this year, despite having a top-seeded player, John Olson, who did score wins.

The 0 and 12 Cougars persevered though, improving with every match.

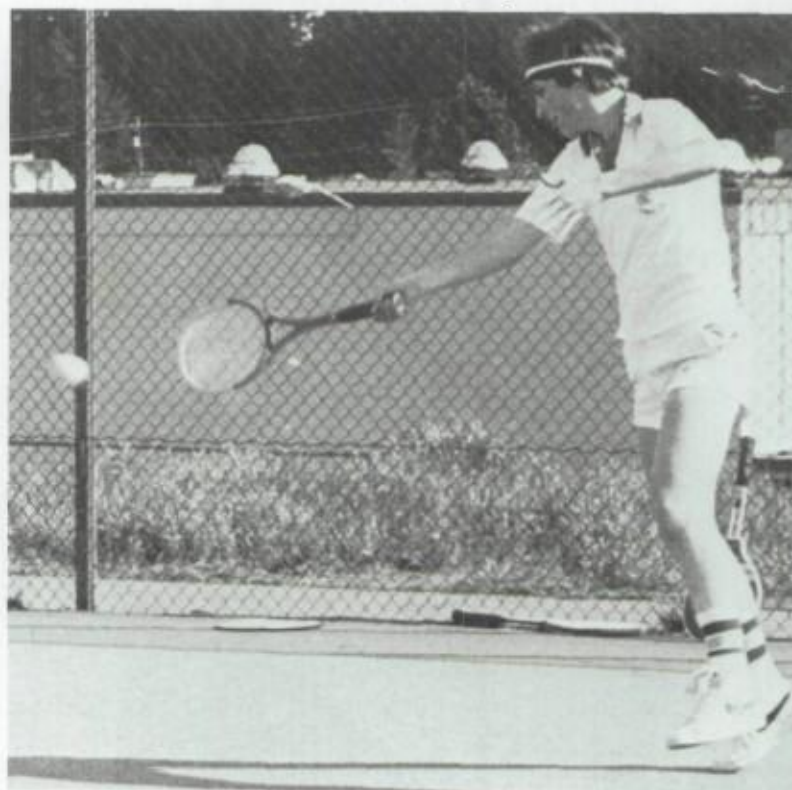

Prospects look good for Coach Lynn Nothdurft's netters, with only two seniors graduating, Olson and Cliff Sharpe.

At the helm for next year will be Junior Paul Leonard and Sophomore Jeff Dye.

Cliff Sharpe moved to the net on this stroke.

John Olson returned a serve, readying for Tournament.

'Faculty Follies' bore fruit

Bothell High's faculty boasted its own "Chorus Line."

Villain Lynn Nothdurft flourished a devious grin.

Faculty and staff united . . . and created the Faculty Follies!

Bothell's entire adult staff, on May 8 and 9, produced a joyful collection of sketches, olios, old-fashioned "meller drammer", and, of course, the Entre' Act Vaudeville; all funds went to scholarships for the Class of '81.

Joanne Hjort and Sandy Slichter collaborated coaching skills for the major event; meanwhile, Claire Moscrip, with a delightful flair, was responsible for the fillers needed to create a smooth-running show.

With nearly 90% faculty involvement from all departments, not only did the audience enjoy themselves but, the faculty, too, had the opportunity to indulge in a little dramatic "folly."

Debbie Nyland and Nothdurft dramatized a life-shattering moment in "True Blue and Trustworthy," May 8 and 9.

Spencer Chriest, Tammie Hubbard, incognita Lisa Tripple, Craig Kraft, Michelle Smith and John DiStefano.

Dennis Behrens directed the set-up.

'Barnyard Bash' tolo delighted couples

Decked out in Levis and cowboy boots, local gentry moseyed on down to the Sadie Hawkins tolo dance on April 4.

The "Barnyard Bash" was sponsored by Chamber Choir under the supervision of Dennis Behrens. "Hard Times" fiddled up a foot-stompin' storm amidst an array of hay bales, cowboys and cowgirls, in Bothell's cafeteria.

General chairs for the dance were Tammie Weitlauf and Bob Kaskes. Committee chairs were Nancy Eves, Jeff Bell, Shannon Knodle, Brenda Kaplan, and Janet Shillam.

Anna Prata and Tim Raines were best dressed.

Formal dances ended

The Best of Times Senior Ball May 23, 1981

The Senior Ball May 23 was the climax of twelve years of homework, sock hops, friendships and field trips.

Seniors truly celebrated the "Best of Times." The theme summarized the past and served as a preview of good times in the future. The dance was held in the Husky Union ballroom at the U of W.

Music for the event was provided by The Machine.

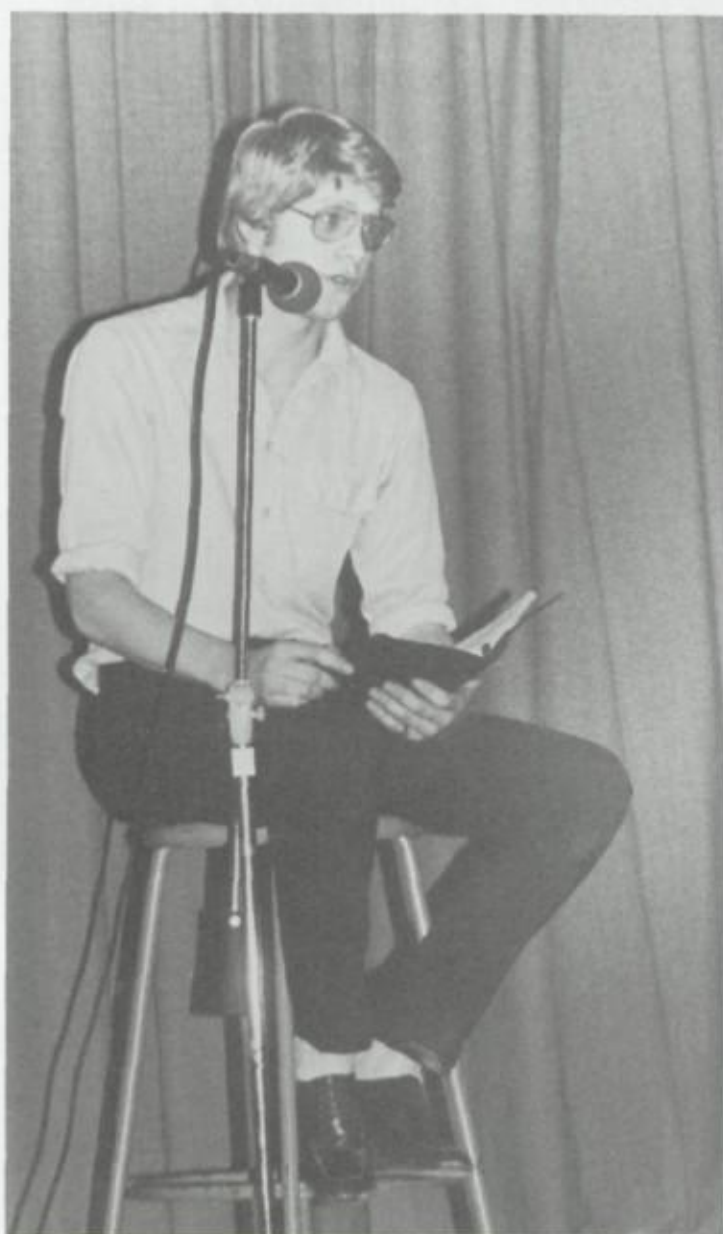

General chair for the dance was Stephanie Clark. Committee heads were Marlene Brookhart, Beth Nelson, Linda Femling, Lisa Nelson, Jim Petrin, Shannon Knodle, Cindy Vanderhyde, Anna Prata and Kim Wood.

Erik Brisbin begged Marlene Brookhart and Stephanie Clark, "Hold that steady or there'll be more than a balloon broken."

Talenghetti served up food and frolics

Singers delighted Talen-ghetti audience.

Erik Brisbin recited his own poem, "Faces of Youth".

An evening of singing, dancing, poetry and other "entertainment" plus a spaghetti meal for two dollars?

Yes - that was Talenghetti at Bothell High School, April 10.

Presented by the ASB, Talenghetti supplied all those attending with an evening of good fun and good food.

Jim (The Janitor) McAuliffe showed partner Greg Munn how it's done.

It was Greek to all!

Bill Tuttle retained his dignity as the plot thickens.

Cries of "Toga Party" in the Little Theater were stifled by the news that a Greek play, "The Bacchae" was playing there instead.

Those attending were not disappointed.

Special effects, a Spartan stage, and wonderful dancing marked this production's success, March 5, 6 and 7. Joanne Hjort directed.

Marianne McCluskey announced, as Nancy Eves watched.

Heralded as the leaders of tomorrow, the top ten and twenty percent hold a responsible position in society.

Vanguards of tomorrow's tomorrows, these people will become the teachers, the presidents, the ones who will decide positions that decide the fate of the whole world.

Intelligence, responsibility and awareness combined to make these students worth honoring.

1981 is particularly unusual, with four students sharing the honor of Valedictorian for the Class of 1981, with identical top grades.

Leaders chosen for 1981-'82

The school year swiftly pulled to an end . . . which called for the election of new leaders for the upcoming year. These new leaders were chosen to direct and guide their school through a positive year. Elections completed for 1981-1982 included: Pep Club Officers May 26, 27, 28; and FBLA Officers, May 20.

New Cheerleaders were chosen on May 15.

Class Officers were elected May 28, during separate class meetings.

Catamount Editor for 1981-'82 is Dave Anderson.

Cougar Editor for 1981-'82 is Paul Priestman with Joey Peterson, assistant editor.

'82 Cheer Staff

Cheerleaders chosen for 1981-'82 were Debbie Amastasi, Stacy Beachler, Sydney del Rosario, Denna Eastman, Linda Helgeland, Sue Hutchings, Jodi Warren.

Yell Kings named were Monty Mills, Todd Westendorf, and Mark Yamada, announced Advisor Clare Roberts.

ASB Officers for 1981-'82; Mary Kae Irvin, president; Tracy Stewart, vice-president (not pictured); Peggy O'Boyle and Heidi Roecks, activity directors; Gregg Munn, treasurer; Ethel Marzolf, secretary.

Spring mania intertwined with hectic closing schedule.

The 1981 Art Fair represented many student artists, including painters, photographers, and hand-crafters.

Paul Priestman prayed to the goddess of spring, Persephone, "Oh, rescue me from the terrible Tapioca Pie Monster!"

"Finian's Rainbow": Tammy Weitlauf, Susan the Silent; Larry Clark, Willy; Cathy Pogue, Sharon; Brian Haight, Finian; Don Hjort, Og, for Spring Night Club, May 29 and 30.

Warren Linzy, Chris Ermert and Dan Haab recognized Easter with a "hare-y" celebration.

As the '80-'81 school year came to an end, it became apparent that the final two months contained many events and special activities. Beginning with May 15 and spiraling down to the final days of school, the hectic closing schedule is outlined below:

- May 15 — Cheer Staff Elections
— Senior Dress-up Day (second of three)
- May 20 — Caps and gowns distributed
- May 21 — Senior Honor Society Induction
- May 22 — Senior Slave Day
- May 23 — Senior Ball, Hub Ballroom at U/W
- May 26 — Baccalaureate, Inglemoor High (Sponsored by Northshore Ministerial Ass'n.)
- May 28 — Faculty Appreciation Breakfast
— Junior, Sophomore Class Elections
- May 29-30 — Spring Night Club, "Finian's Rainbow"
- June 1 — Annual distribution
- June 3-4 — Senior exams, Senior check-out
- June 5 — Final day for Seniors
— Class Day
— Senior Breakfast
- June 9-10 — Underclass exams, morning
- June 9 — Junior registration, p.m.
- June 10 — Underclass exams, morning
— Sophomore registration, p.m.
- June 12 — Commencement rehearsal
— Commencement
— All night Senior Party: Destination Unknown!
- June 13 — Teachers' last day
- June 16 — Diplomas distributed
- June 26 — Final report cards
- July — Transcripts available

Violence and peace

Northshore growth didn't halt to herald the new decade. The Bothell-Woodinville area continued to expand, due to more people moving into the region.

The QFC center increased in size, with the addition of the First Federal Savings building and more shops. New elderly low-income housing was erected near the library and Multi-Service Center, which opened its new auditorium.

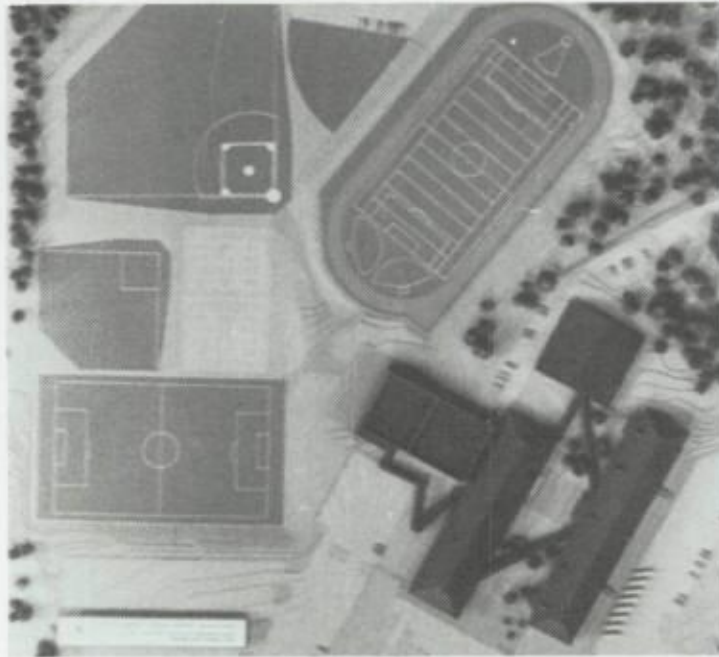

The once-famous towering Bothell Christmas tree was topped earlier this year, due to disease. A new tradition was initiated, with the planting of a younger tree located at the Bothell Landing.

In neighboring Woodinville, foundations are being laid for Woodinville High School, to open in 1982. People of Woodinville also discussed incorporation of their surrounding community into a new city.

Bothell High was the victim of a student-manufactured bomb January 7. Luckily the bomb did not go off properly, and no injuries were incurred.

On April 30, Bothell High was the subject of an accreditation evaluation. Such an evaluation is supposed to occur every 10 years; but the last one was in 1946.

The 1980-81 Bothell High School Cheer Squad had quite definitely broken the stereotyped image of cheerleaders: giggly, thoughtless girls at a high school football game, exhibiting high kicks.

Not only are the individual girls active participants in school functions other than the sport program, but they manage heavy schedules, as well as most all sports from football to cross-country, basketball to swimming.

The squad this year included Yell Kings—Blaine Hirai and Monty Mills adding dimension to the show.

Pep unveiled spirit

"Pep is ... well uh ... it's kinda like ... um ... you know ... it's peppy."

Though hard to put into words pep ran rampant at BHS with the new and improved Pep Club leading the way.

During the course of the year Pep officers sold Pep paraphernalia, offered a "Pep bus" to away games and put together rowdy Pep assemblies, amongst a multitude of other activities.

Candy Stripers

Interest in caring for others is the main ingredient to become a Candy Striper. Twelve girls were members of this year's club, five of them as certificated Red Cross trainees; Rhonda Bauer was President.

Besides stuffing 45 Christmas stockings for low-income families, the girls participated in the annual blood drive in March.

Red Cross certificates enable members to volunteer at area hospitals and convalescent centers. This volunteer work is valuable reference for future health-related careers and training.

Other FBLA officers were Parliamentarian Rudena Braun, Fundraising Angel White, Treasurer Sandy Machon, Secretary Michelle Daus, Reporter Sheri Alexander, and Historian Jeff Muzzy.

Raising money through the student store, a carwash, and their traditional stuffed-animal sales the group funded their own scholarships.

FBLA members met monthly to discuss business, and to practice techniques for regional competition in accounting and business skills.

The student store, selling a new, expanded variety of foods, set record sales for the year. The store was open before school and the last fifteen minutes of each lunch.

Bothell High's auto shop received heavy use from the two VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) classes. The students, under the direction of Dick Mitchell, manipulated the facilities at their disposal to fine tune and put high performance equipment into their cars.

Auto classes (one consisting of juniors, and the advanced class of seniors) made field trips to learn more about the field of mechanics. The club also competed in district and regional competition.

Under the supervision of Ron Wayman, the ASB created new committees such as one for school pride and for welcoming newcomers.

With the readerboard finally a reality (after 13 years), the ASB officers started a fire under the dormant Student Lounge.

Officers were Sven Jonassen, president; Anna Prata, vice president; Laurie Eickhoff, secretary; Sue Bottem, treasurer; and Marlene Brookhart and Cathy Pogue, activities directors.

Running around in a harried manner, Editor Erik Brisbin and crew strove to put together an adequate newspaper. Taking on a new face was harder than originally planned, but The Catamount did come out with a fresh look.

Through its special "Focus" section, the staff scrutinized issues of interest to students on campus. These included child abuse, teenage sexual problems, and its own reviews of Bothell High curricula and activities.

Besides "Focus," the paper identified itself as a motivator in student activities, the readerboard included. The editors promised to run a story on the readerboard in every issue until it was functioning. And they did.

But more than that, The Catamount offered experience to students interested in a journalism career. This offering set the basis for sound, honest reporting. Under the guidance of Eleanor Wallis, staffers learned the responsibilities of good news reporting. TEPFO student-teacher Keith "Guppy" Myette added dimension to learning experiences in early fall action.

Biz manager Kerri Seaton kept the paper's finances in the black and Tony Chichetti balanced the books. Filling other executive positions were Dave Anderson, managing editor; Jeff Muzzy, chief photographer; Lynn Ohls, copy editor; Kym Pritchett, desk editor; Paul Priestman, news editor; John Olson and Jim Shea, sports editors; and Chris Spears, features editor.

Above, Kym Pritchett used her fist to add to her word power. Below, Joey Peterson checked his pulse to see if he was still alive during a late night deadline.

Flickering with uncertainty all year long, Torch Honor Society got enough fuel to get chartered, but lacked steam to really get into action.

Under the auspices of veteran advisors Kathy Harvey and Jill Skog with newcomer Mike Hill, Torch began late in spring.

Hopes were high that this year's ground work will permit next year's Torch to be active immediately.

Look beyond...

Mella, (40g)

How are ya woman? Well you're out that's great! Will have to keep in touch over the summer ok?
It's been great knowing you! Make sure you stay hold of Brian, He's me girl? He's a babe! School's out for ever! I've still got 2 god damned years. Gotta go keep in touch.

Love ya,

Keep
call

The Class of 1981

Seniors have spirit... yes we do!

For 540 days, 1981 seniors have graced the halls and classrooms of Bothell High school with their presence.

It took the first 180 days to become comfortable with each other. Led by President Bob Kaskes, activities included working with each other on dances, Homecoming, and fund raisers.

In the junior year, under the guidance of Class President Jeff Horton, they not only showed the new Sophomores how to put on a successful Junior Prom, but excelled in all areas of endeavor.

For the final countdown, the class was headed by Kiri Pykett. Right off, the class stumbled at Homecoming, being "robbed" by the Juniors. They rallied swiftly, with a new concept at the Christmas Tolo—each couple brought a gift to be donated to needy families for brighter Christmases.

The year moved faster to its close—horizons once far were almost touching. The Senior Ball offered a taste of college, being held in the UW's Hub Ballroom...and within clock-tick, they stood at the brink of the future, looking beyond Commencement to all their tomorrows.

According to faculty consensus, this was an "outstanding class."

Students who rarely stray into the limelight are often those who lighten the pressures of others' days. Again this year, Cougar commends these students and thanks the faculty for their nominations. Congratulations to all those who were recognized...and the other unsung "nice people" who brightened their corners of Bothell High.

DEAN ALDRICH "...he can be counted on to be in the band room four to five afternoons a week after school straightening the room, filing music, cataloging whatever he sees needs to be done. He'll ask for things to do if he doesn't spot something. What a guy!"

PAT ASROUCH "...has worked long and hard to assist the audio-visual department at BHS for no credit and little recognition except from those who work with him."

SANDIE BRASE "...is hard working, polite and especially helpful to other students. She is the first to help students with make up work, lend a pencil or offer a smile!"

JANELLE FAIRCHILD "...has been a super reliable TA in the attendance office."

TAMMY FARRER "...Has worked for almost three years in the Main Office and Library as an assistant—very hard working student... a pleasure!"

WADE LANGTON "...has devoted a tremendous amount of effort and time behind the scenes in completing tedious, yet essential, tasks that are necessary to the Band program: this kid is a winner! He places the success of someone or something above his own gains."

LAUREL LE MIEUX "...is a hard working TA who isn't afraid to give extra time, help other TA's learn new skills and is constantly doing a fine job. In her quiet way, she is a real asset."

ANDY SHELL "...is the first to arrive, the last to leave; the most complete and devoted golfer... undoubtedly the hardest worker on the golf team. What makes him so special is his caring for his fellows. A near par golfer himself, Andy always takes time to help the ones that shoot 110. A fierce competitor, but a quiet gentleman, devoted to Bothell High!"

PAUL WOLF "...has done drawing and welding for teachers, students and the school. He has helped teachers in drafting and in teaching other students."

Esteemed for excellence.

Athletic Award: Mark Beeston, Leanne Buckley, and Steve Boyd.

Athletic Award

Represents the skilled competitive athletes of BHS. Emphasis is on good overall sportsmanship, rather than being a star in any particular sport. Runner up was Mark Crabb.

Talent Award

Talent varies with individual skills and abilities, ranging through literary talent, music, drama, and art. Requires originality, and creativity. Runners up were: Brian Haight, Gary Hasenyager, Cheryl Penoyer, and Theresa Shearer.

Ideal Senior Award

Represents characteristics the Senior Class would like to have: personality, poise, friendliness, loyalty to school and class, willing to serve when asked; reasonably good gpa; and high citizenship. Runners were: Clark Carlile, Bob Kaskes, Gail Ostling, Kelley Straga.

Talent Award: Debbi Carpenter and Bill Bagnall.

Ideal Senior Award: Doug Wallis and Jill Morissey.

ASB Award: Anna Prata and Sven Jonassen.

Senior Service Award: Perry Holzknecht and Kiri Pykett.

ASB Award

The highest honor the student body offers each year is the ASB award. Students must have served BHS for a full three years. These people are prime examples of loyalty and service to their school, class, and community.

Senior Service Award

Represents high service to the class throughout three years. Not necessarily a chair or an officer—but one who is always on hand to make class projects "go." Runners up were: Jeff Horton, Jim Reagan, Sue Bottem, Stephanie Clark, and Julee Frakes.

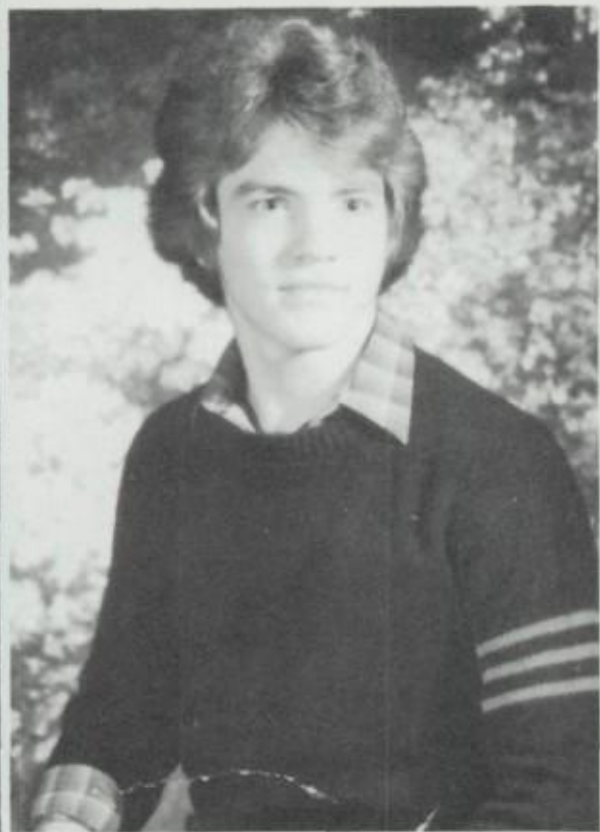

Intellectual Award

Rather than focusing on a high gpa, this award honors a genuine interest in learning, plus creative intellectual curiosity. Runners up were: Erik Brisbin, Jeff Muzzy, Deborah Brenchley, and Beth Nelson.

Intellectual Award: Roger Plough and Cindy Vanderhyde.

Faculty aids re-accreditation

Bothell High's recent re-accrediting process was an evaluation, seeking to encourage and reinforce good practices, and to change those that are ineffective. The basic purpose of this evaluation is to strengthen school programs.

Teachers and administrators from outside the local district studied all aspects of our school, and then reported specific recommendations for improvement.

This entire accrediting system helped strengthen Bothell High, and will determine future direction that the school should take.

"The art of "looking beyond" has its roots based in the present. The ability to be sensitive and understanding of what goes on around you today has importance and meaning for how well you plan and manage in the future.

"Know who you are, where you want to be, and how to get there, as well as knowing others, their needs, goals, and interests. In so doing, you'll have a greater perspective of life: one in which the potential for harmony can exist within yourself and in the world you live."

Dr. Cohen looked beyond the soles of his boots.

Both district and BHS administration had major changes in the highest office. Dr. Al Cohen, former Woodin Elementary principal, replaced Larry Peterson, who was on leave.

On the District level, Lee Blakely resigned his superintendency after 25 years in Northshore education, the last six as super. Dr. Frank Love, assistant superintendent in charge of curriculum, took over the post on interim contract from November 1 to June 30. The year was spent interviewing applicants for the permanent assignment.

Tranquility on the faculty-administration front was assured by the teachers agreeing to a two-year extension of their contract. Signed in early October, it covers the 1981-1983 school years. Tom Carter assumed NSEA presidency, and Joanne Dunn returned to Bothell High class rooms.

The major assignment for both administrators and faculty this year was the "self-evaluation" in preparation for Bothell High's reaccreditation review—the first since 1946. The school was targeted all spring by visiting dignitaries studying everything from textbooks to truancy rates: from curricula to class sizes.

Guidance

An ever-patient counseling team guided all students through every aspect of academic life and encouraged them to reach out and prepare for the future. Joanne Harkonen, career guidance counselor; and Claire Moscrip, Senior adviser, worked intensely to make seniors fully aware of opportunities offered to them. Junior and Sophomore Counselors Jon Wartes and Katie Holland directed the underclasses towards future goals.

Nurse

With the new state law requiring up-to-date immunizations for all grade levels, Nurse Lois LaTorra was faced with the difficult task of obtaining and organizing 1,482 properly filled-out immunization forms. Needless to say, she survived this feat while successfully rendering aid to those in need.

Library

Marianne Gregersen and MaryEllen Green, Bothell High's industrious librarians, kept the library running smoothly and in perfect order through their impeccable standards. They were assisted by Ingrid Weigand during 4th period.

Art

Art classes gave students the chance to discover new talents or develop ones previously acquired. They were able to extend their visions into a wide range of arts and crafts, from batik to quilting; from design through photography; graphics and all levels of painting.

Paul Dahlquist experimented in spring with a class titled Art Survey. It explored the roots of art from all aspects including architecture, city planning, commercial art, performing arts and fine arts.

Music

Music students enriched audiences as well as their own education through lab-teaching methods. Making up an important segment of the student body, the vocal groups (Arions, Chamber and Concert Choirs) were under the direction of Dennis Behrens. String Orchestra, Jazz Ensemble and Symphonic Band were under the auspices of Judd Aetzel. Bernie Ackerman oversaw both Symphonic Wind Ensemble and all district music activities. Mr. Ackerman and Mr. Aetzel shared duties on Marching Band and winter quarter's Pep Bands.

The Occupational Education departments at Bothell High School started many students in careers, business, or industry through their diverse program.

Despite their low-key appearance, the Occup-Ed teachers made distinct impressions on their students, preparing them for the world outside of Bothell High School.

A marriage within the departments took place over the summer as Dave Nyland of Industrial Tech exchanged vows with Debbie Van Scyoc of Business Ed.

The course description pamphlet calls it "Challenge English". Some students taking it claimed it was "Impossible English". The program is designed to challenge gifted students, and expansion is planned.

Whatever the program, on every level, was called, the progressive English system at Bothell High School seemed to benefit all.

Publications such as "Curiosa", "Catamount" and "Cougar" brightened the English horizons, apart from the normal "Oedipus", "Huck Finn" and "Julius Caesar."

Chris Davis came to the English department at Bothell High School from Anderson School, to replace Mary Kollar for her one-year sabbatical.

Foreign Languages

A growing interest in global futures was reflected in the number of students in beginning language classes. Approximately forty percent of the student body studied a foreign language, either French, German, or Spanish.

Mrs. Matalon-Munro returned this year after the birth and loss of a son.

Home & Family Life

"New" "Fresh" "Colorful." These words are used often in describing the Home & Family Living department.

From late July to late September, rooms underwent extensive remodeling. They are now much more spacious and modern, providing a pleasanter atmosphere.

A special afternoon Open House was held in October for parents and friends, to show off their remodeled quarters.

Mrs. Lindquist-Aiken is new, replacing Barbara Bruya.

Physical Education

Nobody wears PE clothes to Math class and nobody takes his/her slide rule, calculator or pencil for Flag Football / Soccer, 3rd period. Although the two classes are related, they don't really mix.

Physical Education offered a wide variety of activities from Modern Dance to Weightlifting. Some of the classes caused strained muscles and promoted anti-perspiration products.

"Weightlifting is a heavy subject," gasped one student.

Mathematics

Math also stretched students' abilities to the limit, with students pondering over homework. Math teachers covered all the angles of problems a lot of students had. So they factored out the problems, interpolated the results and derived their solutions.

Theresa Hartig found a strange object in the North Creek wetlands.

In addition to the varied curriculum of the science department, the students, with the guidance of Bill Belknap and Cal Schultz, were involved in the North Creek Survey. Resuming the study from last year, the major difference was that this program was more complete. As Mr. Belknap said of the project, "It's a neat opportunity for young people to get out and take part in a worthwhile study which can actually help the environment in which they live."

Almost as dramatic as the change that Mt. St. Helens made in the geography of Washington, were the fundamental changes in the Social Studies department. CPS became an elective, while Washington State History and Economics became required courses for the Seniors. Joanne Dunn returned after serving as NSEA president, and Ron Juzeler was transferred to Special Education.

Political highlight of the year was the Fall election. Candidacies for offices from President to state legislators were reviewed and debated in most SS classes throughout the fall.

Bothell High's Special Program consisted of two areas in learning. The Learning Center held small classes where students were taught English, Math, US History and Social Studies, according to the academic areas in which they needed improvement.

The Pre-Vocational program, with 30-35 enrolled, allowed students to work up to half-days at jobs for high school credit, which also (providing training in many areas of work) fulfilled academic requirements in the remaining school time.

Each teacher had the assistance of an aide this year, who helped with the teaching and assisted to meet that teacher's needs.

Mr. Hunter and John Shannon tinkered with Mr. Haynes' car.

The specialized non-departmental crews prepared students for their lives in the years ahead. Included were Traffic Safety, Carpentry and the ever-expanding Pre-Vocational program. Classroom teaching and on-the-job training were combined to give an excellent teaching method.

Wes Larson headed the Carpentry class located at the Anderson campus. He provided guidance in helping future carpenters build mini-barns and a complete house.

Pre-Voc and The Resource Room gave students classroom training and help in job placement. These programs were tailored to students' individual needs, with new teacher aides helping.

Traffic Safety narrowed down to John Hunter in the classroom and several instructors in the field. This allowed all-day instruction instead of the previous half-day sharing with Inglemoor. Traffic Safety stressed defensive driving and awareness of driver responsibility.

Cooks: Sandy Neumen, Georgia Turner, Annie Burg, Betty Roggenkamp, Alene Miller and Mary Susich. Below: Mary Susich kept lunch line running smoothly.

While the cooks kept student stomachs perpetually filled with hot food, the custodial engineers cleaned up the mess generated by cooks' generous servings.

The lunch program strove to meet with the students' demands and still keep prices as low as possible. Even with federal funds, regular student lunch prices rose to 75 cents; mini-lunch to 65; and faculty to a whopping $1.25. A salad bar proposed by students was under consideration.

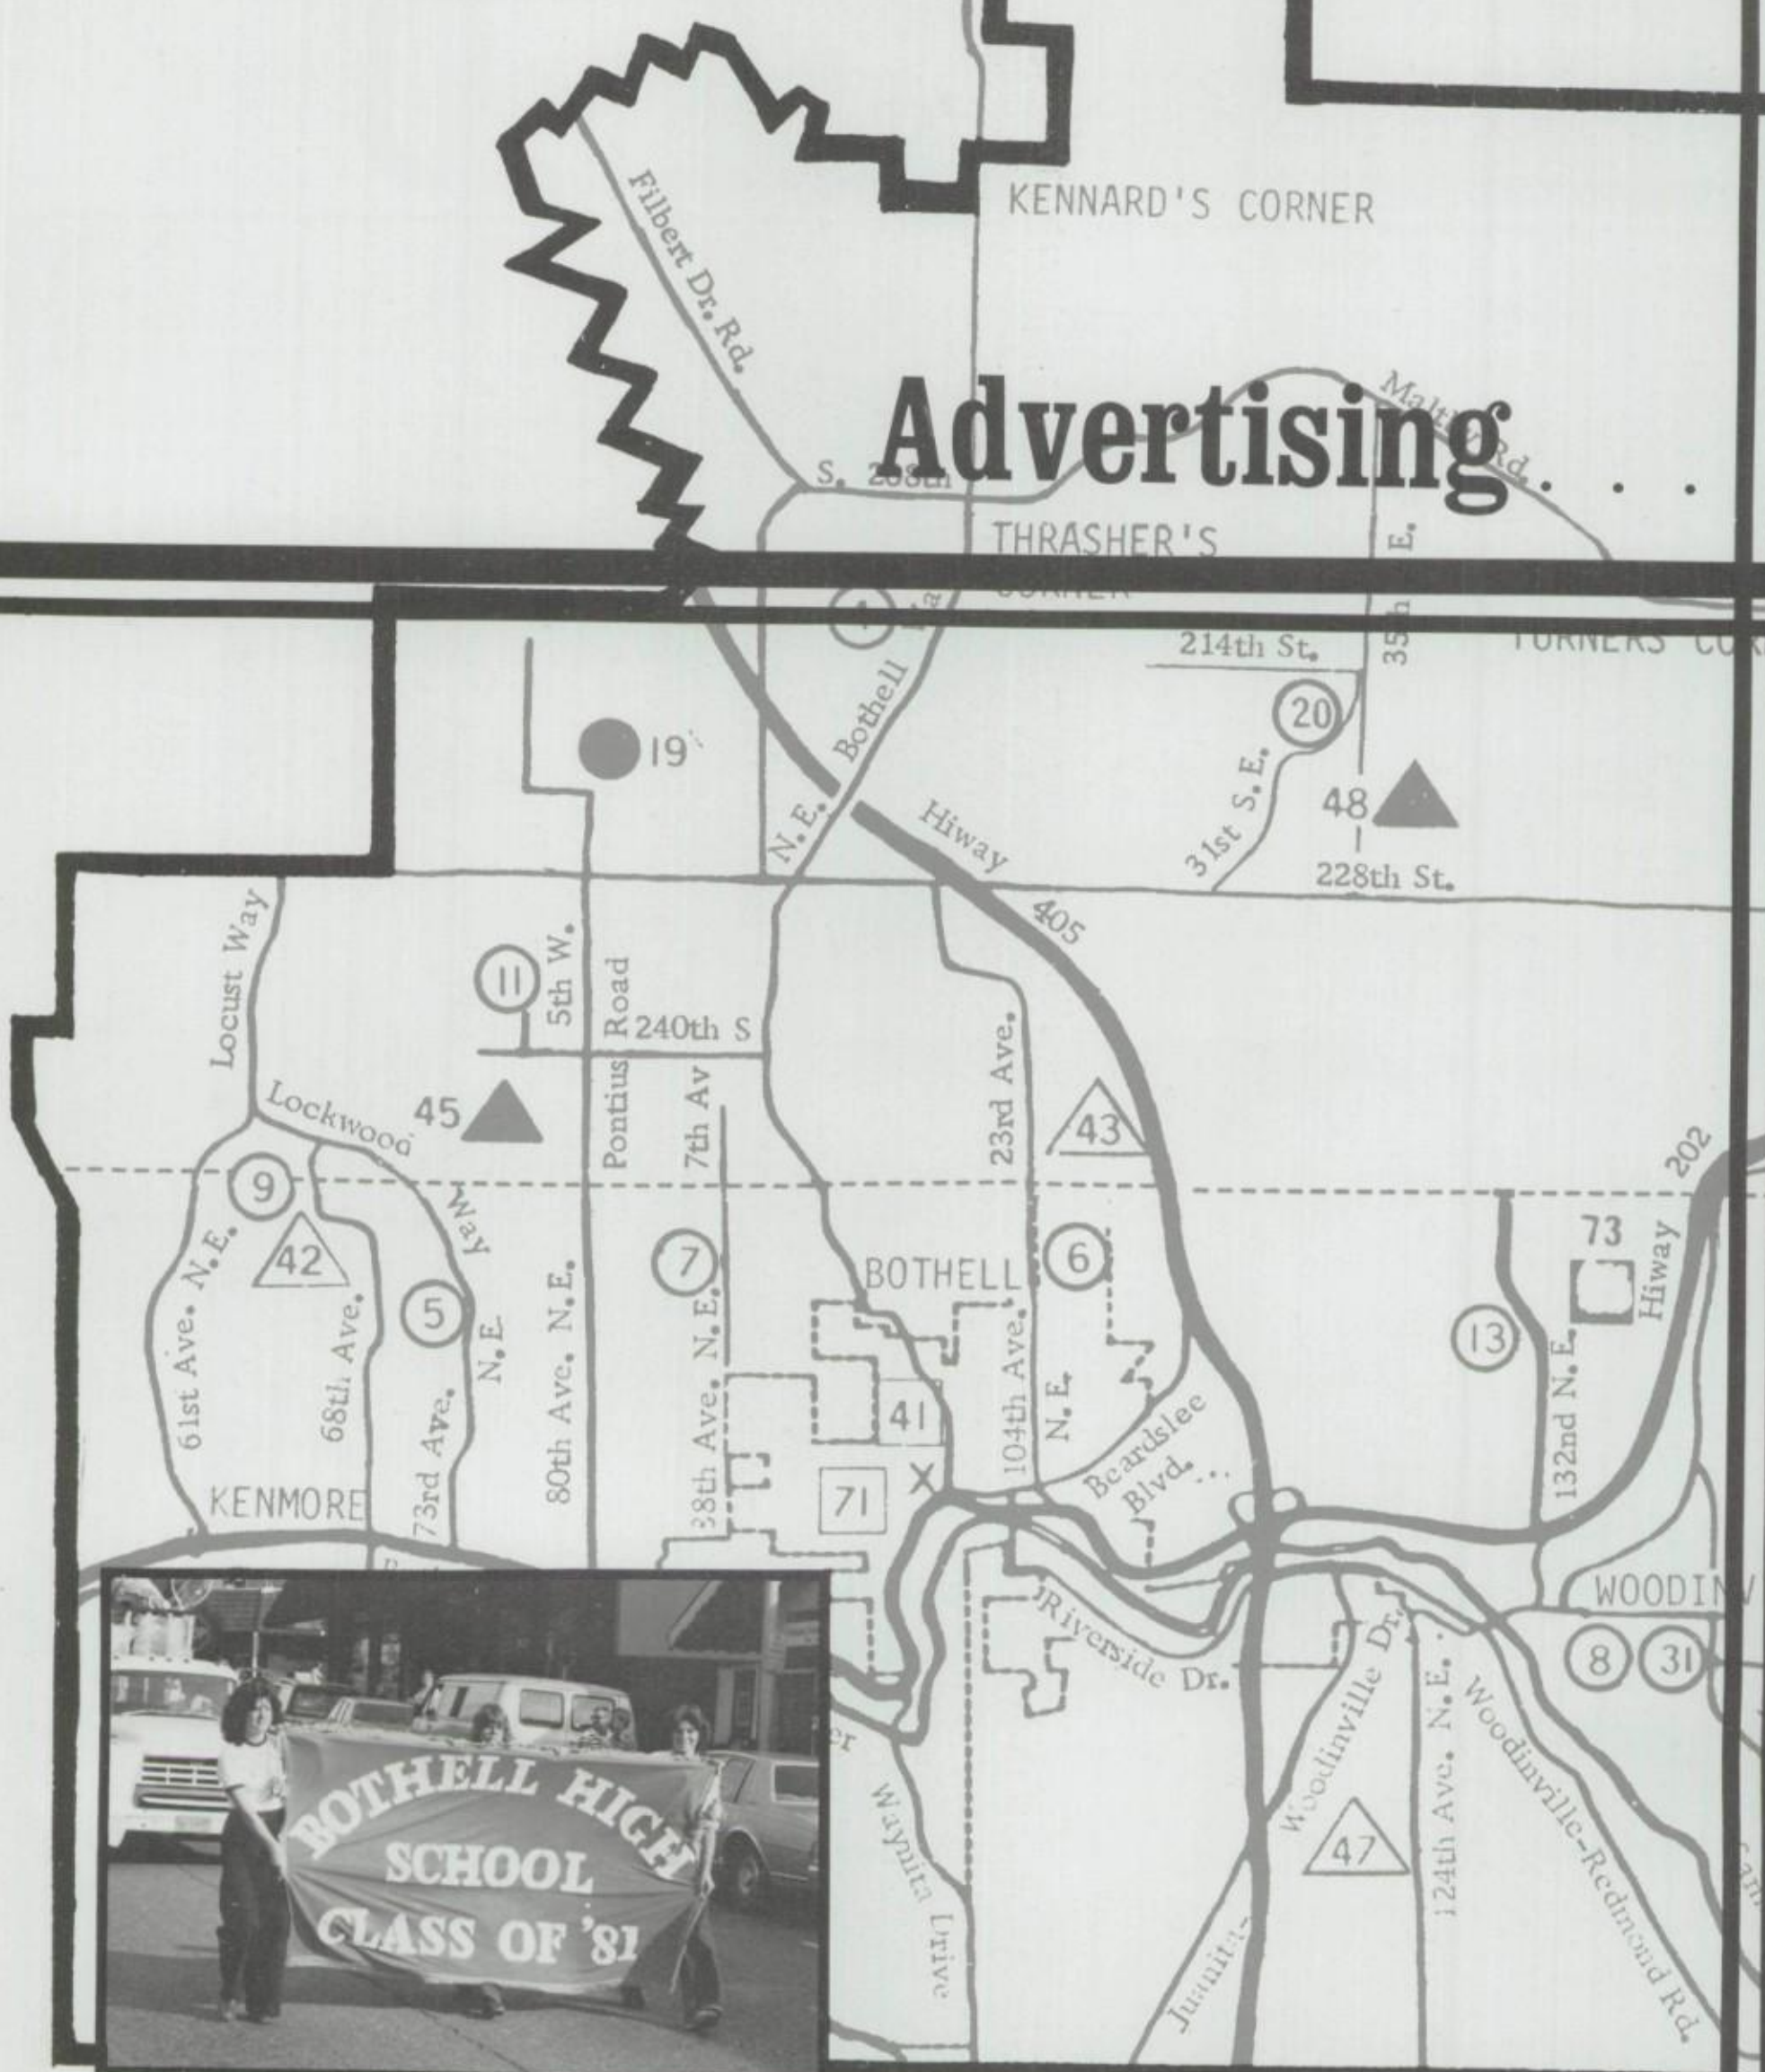

"Custodial engineers" kept the refurbished school cleaned to a "T". Added to the noises of cleaning chores was the whir of vacuums that cleaned newly-carpeted rooms.

The whole crew kept the blue walls their bluest and the white linoleum-tiled floors to their whitest and shiniest.

Georgia Turner served 'em hot as Mr. Hawkes contemplated choices.

Dear Cougar Staff,

I must admit even I began the year a bit skeptically, not really knowing the others or what to expect. Our first task as a group was to brainstorm for a theme. When we decided on "Look beyond", did anyone of us really apply the idea to our own lives? We weren't even looking far enough ahead to see that, before we could stop the time, we'd be looking back at "looking beyond". We'd look back on a year of ups and downs, pain and agony, closeness and mutual support, sharp words and senseless laughter.

How could such a scraggly group of people become such a wonderful, intertwined family? I attribute this miracle to the Spirit of Room 53. He is ever present, although he never speaks. He doesn't have to. We all know he is there, watching and caring for us. Helping us along when we're frustrated, boosting us up when our morale is all but nonexistent. He is the one who puts the final miraculous touch on every project.

Well, group, we made it! It looked pretty bleak at times but we're survivors! It makes me sad to think that life will take us in our separate directions; but I am happy because I know that you will all achieve unequivocal success.

Here's to endless laughter!!

Much love,
Debbie Schumacher

With the completion of the yearbook near, I realize there are many people who deserve my sincerest "thank-you's".

I know I speak for the entire staff when I thank Mrs. Wallis with my deepest gratitude and love. There is more love, patience and understanding inside of Mrs. Wallis than any of us will ever fully comprehend.

Thank you...

Jim Palm, American Yearbook Representative;

Dave White, of Northwest Color Studio;
Adaline Good, Nadara Beck, Sara Kettle, for yearbook sales and office help;

Keith Myette(Guppy), our devoted student teacher;

Robert Leifer, for bookkeeping;

Erik Brisbin, for cover photography;

Thanks bunches!!

Well Della,
you finely made it, so now you can just party till your hearts content & stay high and thanks for all the tokes.

(SISTER) Della,

I'm really glad I've gotten to know you, it's been great partying at school with good bud. It's been excellent, I wish you the best of luck in the future, have a good time with Brian. And don't get too stoned and do something too. Croyx

Your friend always.

hi D.J.

It was great knowing you! I'm really gonna miss ya. Even though we didn't get to know each other very well, remember when I met you - we were in the bathroom getting stoned? That was too high! I wish you and Brian the very best! Good luck to you in whatever you do! Keep in touch: 481-1451

So sorry
Sloppy

miss you

Dear Della

I have been thinking of you a lot lately and how much I love you. I hope you are well and happy
as always. I am well and hope you are the same.
I love you very much.
Your mother

Della

You are so lucky. I still have to make you. What are you going to do with your life

Big Love

Della

have a great partian summer
And good luck, remmiber the pig. I have to say goodbye
Cuz It's raining

Brian
Benedict

Della,
 You are a
 super listener.
 Thanks! You will obtain many friends in life because of it. Best wishes in future. It's hard to believe I'm leaving high school all the memories will last forever. Thank for being part of them. God Bless you Della
 Love Delene B

Della,
 Hi, well I hope
 you're happy that you made it! I know, you won't be relieved until you have that diploma in your hand! I know how you feel well, I have a great summer and will see you later. I can't say I'll see you next year because I probably won't. Hope you have a good future!
 Love always, Barb Class of

Della,
I'm really glad I got to know
this year, it's been fun this year but I wish I was getting out classes like 5th period can drive you crazy sometimes!! we'll have a good summer? give me a call sometime (483-6150) may the years to come always get better for you, as I hope the same.
I think I should be signing off now for I'm not to good at original things... unless I'm in the wright frame of mind. stay sweet.

Love & friendship always
Kelly

Della,
I'm sure you know what a great and special friend you are. Isn't it great to have close friends. We've had alot of high times together which I'll never forget. We must keep in touch, your friendship is important to me.
Thanks for everything you've done for me
you are an outstanding person.

Lots of love
Debbie.
